ABOUT NAP EXPO

The NAP Expo is an annual outreach event organized by the Least Developed Countries Expert Group (LEG) under the UNFCCC, in collaboration with various bodies and organizations, to promote exchange of experiences and foster partnerships between a wide range of actors and stakeholders on how to advance National Adaptation Plans (NAPs).

It brings together national leaders and policy makers on NAPs and representatives from the Green Climate Fund, the Global Environment Facility, United Nations organizations, international organizations, bilateral and multilateral agencies, regional centres and networks, as well as scientists and practitioners.

This year's NAP Expo will be held from 11 to 15 July 2016, in Bonn, Germany, under the theme Advancing National Adaptation Plans post-Paris. It consists of two days of specialized NAP related events organized by the LEG and different organizations, and three days of plenary and breakout group sessions whereby participants will deliberate on ways to advance NAPs.

The Expo will provide space for exhibitions showcasing progress made by developing countries and/or information on support to the developing countries for the formulation and implementation of NAPs.

More information on NAPs is available on NAP Central unfccc.int/NAP.

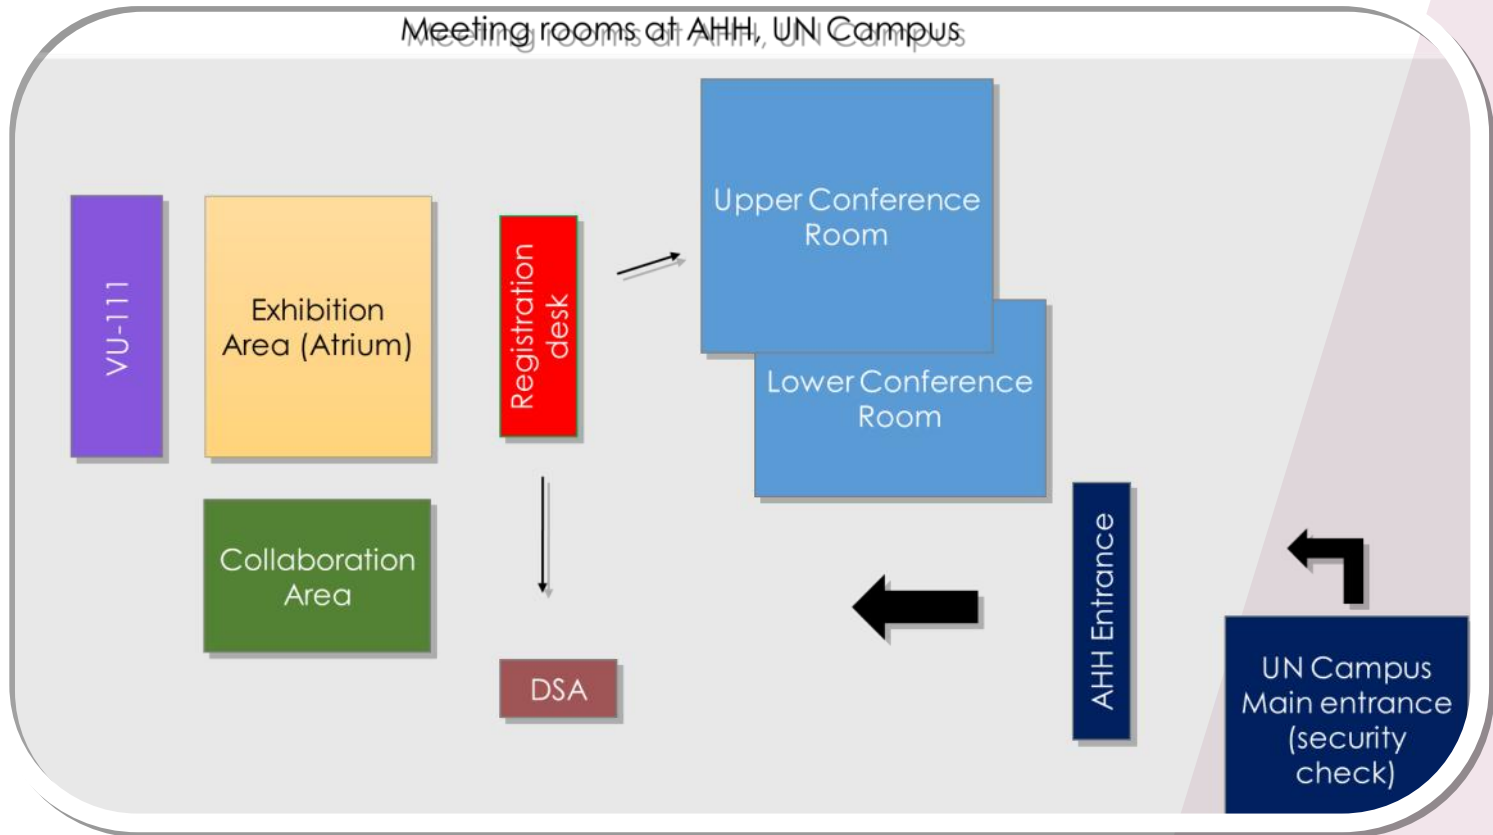

OBJECTIVES OF THE NAP EXPO

- a. To provide a platform for focused interactions between all Parties and organizations on aspects that advance the formulation and implementation of NAPs;
- b. To serve as a forum for sharing experience, best practices, lessons learned, gaps and needs and information on support provided and received in relation to the process to formulate and implement NAPs;
- c. To offer a platform for countries to interact with providers of support, including the GCF and GEF, and bilateral agencies as means to improve access to financing for NAPs;
- d. To serve as a global forum on NAPs where different organizations and bodies can conduct specialized meetings and workshops with a view to ensuring coherence among the approaches undertaken in supporting countries undertake the process.

More information on NAPs is available on NAP Central unfccc.int/NAP.

0900 –1030	SESSION V: PLENARY – TECHNICAL METHODS This plenary session will introduce the participants to the climate change impacts under the context of the less than 2 °C global temperature limit, and the data, methods and tools for assessing climate risks and vulnerabilities in this context. It will also provide latest approaches on economic appraisal for the formulation and implementation of NAPs, methods and tools and reflections on the science-policy interaction. It will end with a talk on how best to utilize information and communication technologies (ICTs) to support adaptation planning and implementation. Moderator: Abias Huongo (LEG) Presentations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 5.1 Climate risks and vulnerabilities in the less than 2°C world – Olivia Serdeczny (Climate Analytics) 5.2 Economic appraisal under NAPs – Paul Watkiss (Paul Watkiss Associates) 5.3 Opportunities for supporting urban and rural adaptation planning and implementation through ICTs – Flavio Cucchiatti (Telekom Italia, ITU-T SG 5) 	Plenary
1100 –1230	SESSION VI: PLENARY –PILLARS FOR NATIONAL ADAPTATION PLANS The session will examine a few case studies of how a particular issue of prime importance for a country can be the main entry point or pillar of the adaptation work, after which all other issues would then be considered. Three examples will be covered. Madagascar is a well-known centre of biological biodiversity. Addressing climate change through adaptation must consider the dynamics of this biodiversity including closely related stress factors such as poverty, pressure on land due to deforestation, shifting viability of the main cash crops when climatic conditions change, etc. Two other examples are on taking a regional approach to the assessment and development of adaptation responses in the context of hydro-energy. In other cases, a focus on community-based adaptation has been very successful, as is the case for Bangladesh. Moderator: Abias Huongo (LEG) Presentations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 6.1 Biodiversity conservation as a pillar of a national adaptation strategy – Jonah Ratsimbazafy (GERP, Madagascar) 6.2 Climate change and infrastructure – Raffaello Cervigni (World Bank) 6.3 Community based adaptation as a pillar of national adaptation efforts – Atiq Rahman (ICCCAD, Bangladesh) 	Plenary
