Alt. 10.	Encourages each Party to communicate an intended nationally determined contribution that represents the highest level of mitigation ambition, while emphasizing that the type, scope or-and scale of such contribution should go beyond previous and current actions undertaken by that Party under the Convention and its Kyoto Protocol. Parties with greatest responsibility and those with sufficient capability are expected to take on absolute economy-wide mitigation targets, and all Parties should aspire to this over time.
10.	Agrees that achievement of the aggregate level of ambition indicated as necessary by the scientific findings assessed in the Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change through nationally determined contributions requires:
(a)	Implementation of contributions by each Party beyond any commitment or action currently undertaken by it under the Convention or its Kyoto Protocol;
(b)	Mobilization of increasing levels of financial, technological and capacity building support for developing country Parties, in particular those most vulnerable to the adverse effects of climate change;=
11.	Recognizes that the intended nationally determined contributions from developing countries that are particularly vulnerable to the adverse effects of climate change, especially the least developed countries and small island developing States, will reflect their efforts in the context of their specific needs and special situations;
12.	Notes that intended nationally determined contributions associated with the different elements referred to in paragraph 5 of decision 1/CP.17 have unique characteristics and time frames;
