

Ms. Chantal Naidoo

Senior Associate of E3G's International Climate Finance Programme

Chantal Naidoo is an ex banker with 20 years spent across different financial disciplines in local and international institutions - corporate tax, investment banking, capital markets and development finance. Across these institutions, she was instrumental in investment programmes and project formulation, new financial product development and transaction advisory services.

Her work in environmental finance in South Africa contributed to the National Climate Change Response Policy, the design of the Green Fund, GEF accreditation of DBSA, NAMA development and raising profile of national development banks in climate action.

Chantal now works as an environmental finance consultant - serving as a Senior Associate to E3G where she leads their work on national climate finance strategies in Latin America and Africa. She also consults to the GCF Readiness Programme.

Chantal has academic qualifications in Finance, Tax Law and Development Finance. She is based in South Africa where she contributes to various national discourses and projects on financing low emission climate resilient development and serves on two Boards.
