

Rama Chandra Reddy

Rama Chandra Reddy is a Senior Carbon Finance Specialist at the Climate Policy and Finance Department of the World Bank, Washington DC.

He has been working on policy, methodology, regulation, finance and operational aspects of climate change agenda in multiple sectors and geographic regions for over 10 years. His current work focuses on financing instruments related to forests and climate change.

He holds a PhD in Resource Economics from Bangor University, United Kingdom.