

Tuga Alaskary

Ms. Tuga Alaskary has been working for the African Risk Capacity (ARC) Specialized Agency of the African Union since 2010. ARC is a sovereign weather-index insurance initiative providing governments with contingency financing in the event of extreme weather events. In her current role as a Country Engagement Manager for the ARC, Ms. Alaskary manages a portfolio of country programmes. Prior to this, she was a Liaison Officer at the Office of the Prime Minister of Iraq where she took a leading role in a national civil service reform initiative with the United Nations Assistance Mission for Iraq. She has also worked for various NGOs, the United Kingdom's civil service and in academic institutions in London and Baghdad. A British and Iraqi national, Tuga has a B.A. honours degree in Politics, Philosophy and Economics from the University of Essex and an MSc in Development Studies from the University of London's School of Oriental and African Studies. She is a native English and Arabic speaker.
