

Integrating Gender into REDD+ Programme in Sudan

Mey Eltayeb Ahmed (PhD)
Climate change and Gender Adviser
Email: meyahmed@gmail.com

Identifying the needs and priorities of W & M

– First Consultation

- Situation analysis

– Second and third Consultations and Brainstorming

- Group focused discussion GHU1
- Key informants
- Semi-structured interview

Slide 2

GHU1

Focus group discussions? or focus groups?

Genet Hunegnaw, 04/06/2015

Mainstreaming gender in the REDD+ programme in Sudan?

- Planning (involvement and participation)
 - Identifying the priorities/ranking
 - Developing the programme/ policy and objectives.
 - Identifying the indicators and verification measurement

- Participation:
 - Planning
 - Implementation
 - Monitoring and Evaluations

Gender & effectiveness of REDD+ as mitigation action

- linking the local community's livelihood with sustainable forest management.
- Involving the men, women, boys, girls and vulnerable groups (people at the centre).
- Inclusiveness and accountability
- Addressing people's needs and interests by considering the gender aspects.

Multi-track cooperation

•Cooperation & coordination

•Integration & participation of men & women

- Awareness raising & Capacity building
- Networking & advocacy
- New sustainable solutions
- Research, assessment & best practices
- Finance support

1. Decision-makers

UN agencies, private sector
and donors

2. NGOs &
CBOs

3. Grass roots/ local communities