DESCRIPTION

The International Atomic Energy Agency assists Member States with practical solutions for their energy planning.

It offers different types of energy modelling tools that enable States to make smart energy choices.

The IAEA's Planning and Economic Studies Section develops, enhances, maintains, and transfers analytical tools to assess different energy options and strategies, including the potential of nuclear power.

The link leads to a section that offers Member States a wide-range of tools for integrated energy planning for sustainable development that are delivered through computer-based software programs and manuals, trainings, and e-learning sessions/platforms, upon request.
