

Twenty-seventh session of the Subsidiary Body for Scientific and Technological Advice

Progress made in the implementation of the Nairobi work programme

Kishan Kumarsingh
Chair of the SBSTA

Content

- Structure and objectives
- Approach to implementation
- Activities and deliverables
- Involvement of Parties, organizations and experts
- Delivering until Bonn, and the way forward
- Concluding remarks

Structure and objectives

Approach to implementation

1. Mandated SBSTA activities

- Submissions from Parties and relevant organizations
- Synthesis reports and web-based interface on adaptation
- Workshops and expert meetings, and subsequent reports

'From Nairobi to Bali'

Mandated activities

Submissions on

- Risks and extreme events

February

Submissions on

- Methods and tools
- Adaptation planning and practices

May

18-20, Cairo, Egypt: Workshop on risks and extreme events

June

Synthesis of information on:

- Adaptation planning and practices
- Outputs from expert groups

August

Cairo workshop report

10-12, Rome, Italy: Workshop on adaptation planning and practices

September

Submissions on

- Data and observation
- Climate modelling, scenarios and downscaling
- Socio-economic information
- Group of experts

Synthesis of information on:

- Methods and tools
- Research
- Technologies for adaptation
- Economic diversification

December

Rome workshop report

UN Climate Change Conference 2007
Bali - Indonesia

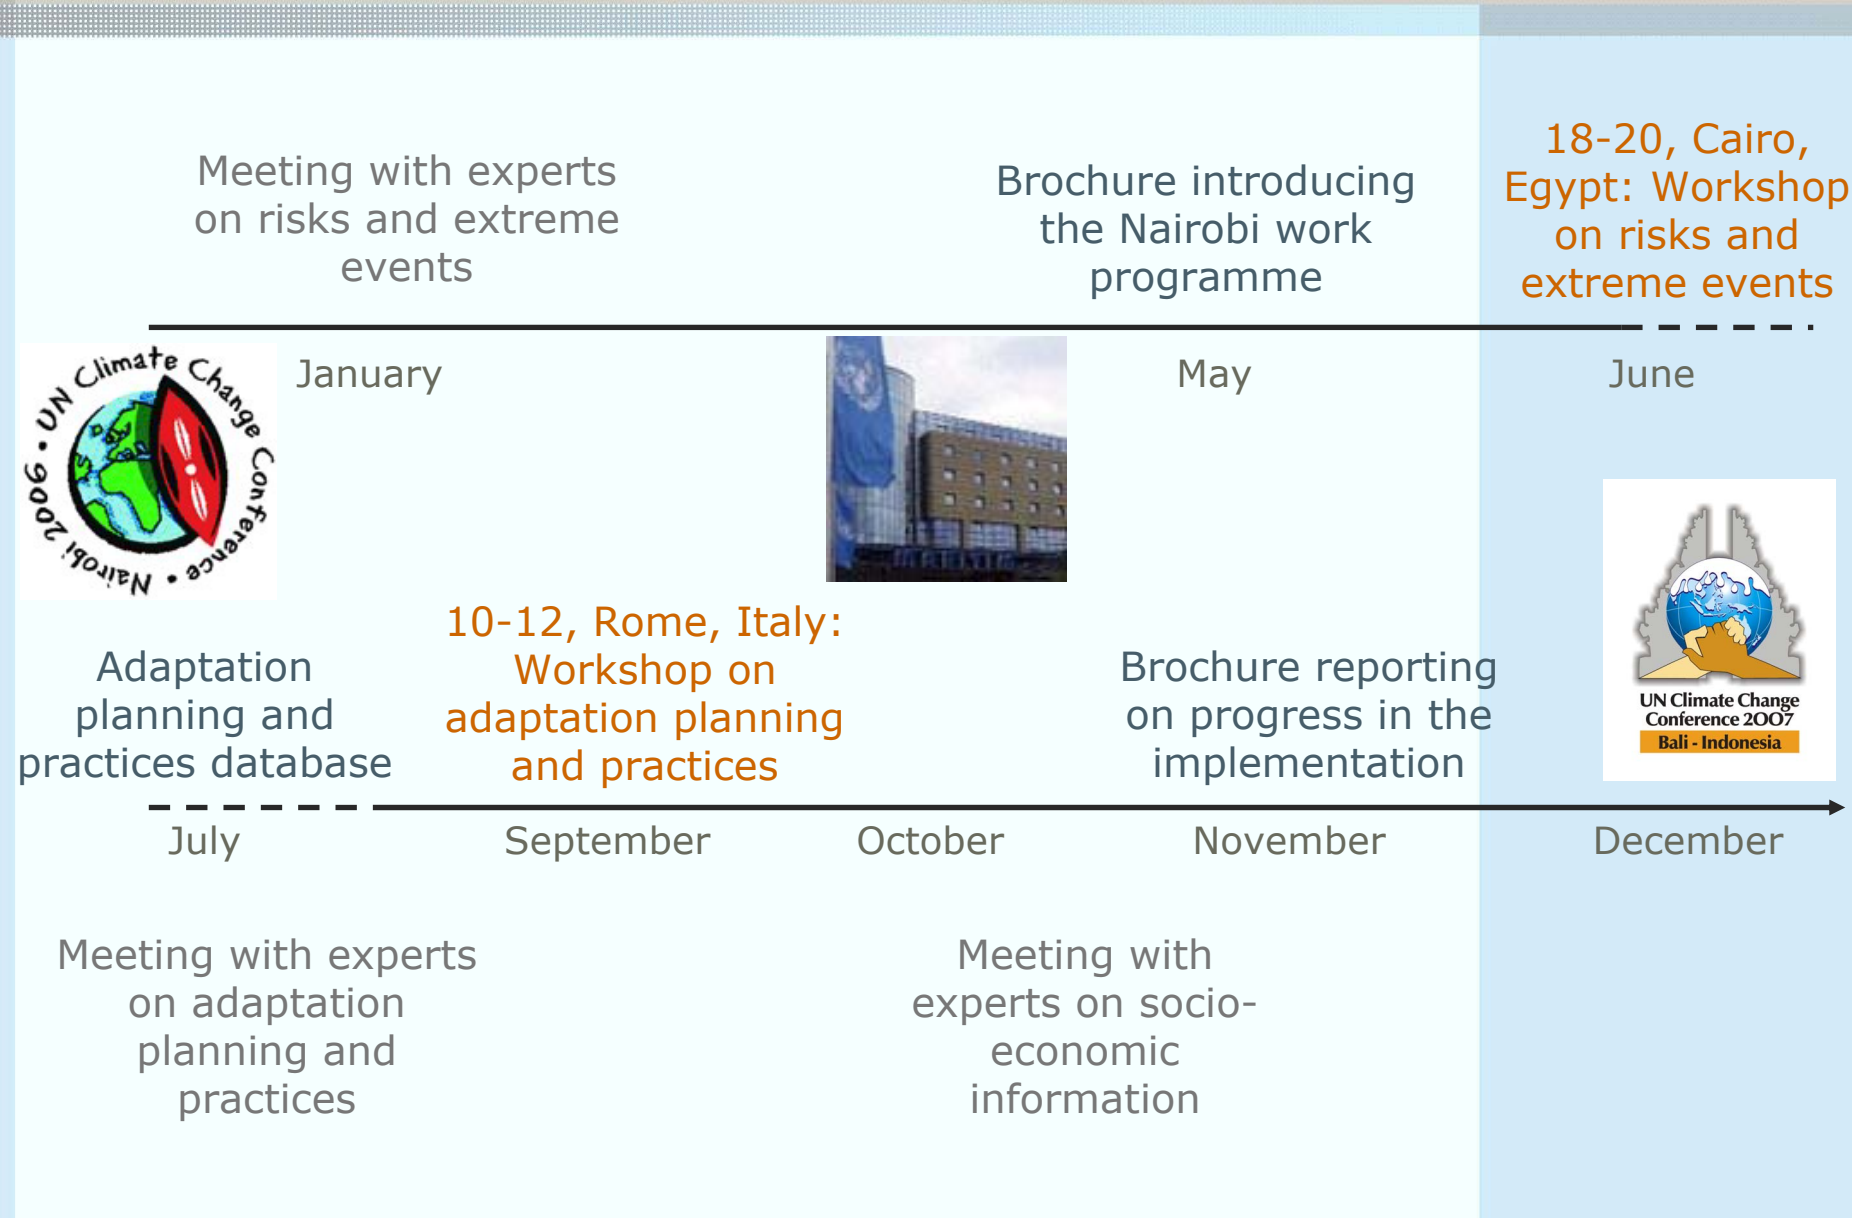

Approach to implementation

2. Furthering the reach of mandated activities

- Generating expanded ownership through small preparatory meetings with experts from organizations around the nine areas of work
- Creating and disseminating reader-friendly versions of Nairobi work programme documents, products and tools

'From Nairobi to Bali'

Outreach

Approach to implementation

3. Catalyzing innovative actions by Parties and organizations, through
 - Engaging a wide range of organizations in the different activities, and encouraging them to undertake their own activities towards the Nairobi work programme objectives
 - Introducing Call for Action sheets and encouraging Action Pledges
 - Enhancing cooperation among multiple partners

'From Nairobi to Bali'

Innovative action for engaging stakeholders

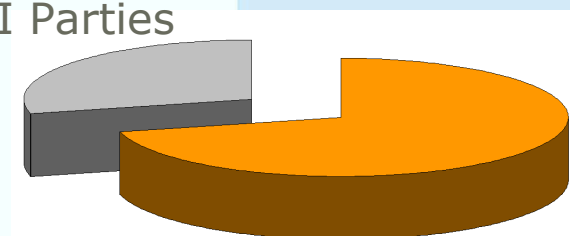

Involvement of Parties, organizations and experts

Attendance at the workshops in Cairo and Rome

100 representatives from Parties and relevant national experts

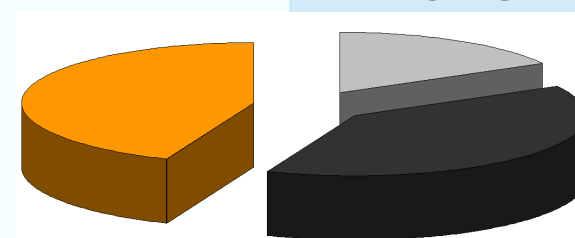

96 representatives from a broad range of organizations and the three expert groups under the UNFCCC (LEG, CGE and EGTT)

29% from Annex I Parties

71% from Non-Annex I Parties

17% from NGOs

44% from UN organizations and other IGOs

39% from regional and national development/research institutions

Delivering on the initial activities

'From Bali to Bonn'

UN Climate Change
Conference 2007
Bali - Indonesia

Expert meeting on socio-economic information

February

Joint expert meeting on methods and tools and data and observation

March

Web-based interface providing information on existing adaptation practices and local coping strategies

April

Submissions on further activities Reports on the expert meetings on socio-economic information;
methods, tools, data and observation; and the informal meeting

May

June

Informal meeting of representatives from Parties to consider the outcomes of Nairobi work programme
activities

In-session workshop on climate modelling, scenarios and downscaling

Review of the work programme, and further activities
Summary report consolidating the results of the
implementation of the
NWP for SBSTA 29

The way forward

Concluding remarks

- Activities, deliverables and work of involved organizations constitute a solid foundation for contributing to the main objectives of the Nairobi work programme
- The Nairobi work programme could provide a valuable contribution to the package of adaptation activities in the future regime

Thank you

All official documents are available at the documents counter

More information available on the UNFCCC website

<http://unfccc.int/3633.php>