

DRAFT
Compilation of decisions, subsidiary body reports related to gender and climate change
Prepared by the secretariat

This document brings together in one document all decisions, Subsidiary Body reports and adopted conclusions under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC), the Kyoto Protocol (KP) and the Paris Agreement that pertain specifically to gender, including decisions and adopted conclusions in other substantive areas with references to gender, so as to more easily identify areas of progress, potential gaps, and areas that require further support for implementation. The document is in draft.

Methodology

The criteria for including a mandate in this document are:

- a) It is a final decision or conclusion or is otherwise an implementation mandate i.e. not a draft decision or conclusion or negotiating text.
- b) The mandate refers in some way to gender – either by using the word “gender” and/or “women” and/or in limited cases, “social/socially” and/or “major groups/NGO constituencies”¹.
- c) All mandates, whether implemented or not, are included in this version of the document.

Layout

The document is organized by thematic areas, which are presented in alphabetical order:

- Adaptation;
- Article 6/Action for Climate Empowerment (ACE);
- Capacity-building;
- Climate finance;
- Gender and climate change;
- Loss and damage;
- Mitigation;
- Other climate policy areas;
- Technology (development and transfer of technologies)

Fifth review of the Financial Mechanism

- 15 (Annex) The sub-study on gender mainstreaming made in the context of the fifth overall performance study of the GEF found that the GEF secretariat had made significant efforts to implement a gender mainstreaming policy, while there was scope for improvement in the application of the policy by GEF agencies. In addition, the policy recommendation of the sixth replenishment period of the GEF on further work on gender mainstreaming emphasized that more concerted efforts need to be made in order to enhance gender mainstreaming within the GEF. Accordingly, the GEF secretariat is currently developing a Gender Action Plan, which will identify ways to enhance gender mainstreaming, including the use of relevant gender-sensitive indicators and sex-disaggregated data. The Action Plan will be presented to the GEF Council in October 2014
