

MEDIA ADVISORY

Media are invited to attend the press conference "The Chilean initiative of solar mining" in which will be announced the strategy to take advantage of the fact that the country produces the highest solar radiation on the planet and its potential for a more efficient and sustainable mining.

Thus, the future of Chilean mining will aim to reduce the emission of greenhouse gases, lower energy costs and develop photovoltaic technology.

In this opportunity, also the creation of the Climate Change and Sustainability Agency will be announced. This is a new public institution that will materialize significant changes in the territories and productive sectors, promoting a transformation towards a low carbon economy, with higher levels of efficiency in the use of the resources and with better adaptive capacities to the new environmental conditions.

Where: Rabat Press Conference Room, Blue Zone.

When: 17:30 pm, Tuesday, November 15th, 2016

The event is open to COP22 credentialed media with access to the Blue Zone. It will also be livestreamed at <http://unfccc.cloud.streamworld.de>
