

Media Advisory: Press Conference

“The Global Demand to Stop New Fossil Fuels”

Live letter handover to top level policy official

Marrakech, 11 November 2016 - Journalists attending the COP22 UN climate negotiations in Marrakech are invited to a press conference following a live event and the handover of a letter signed by more than 350 civil society organisations across the world demanding the immediate freeze of all new fossil fuel projects globally.

Civil society signatories to the letter include 350.org, Oil Change International, Christian Aid, the Leonardo DiCaprio Foundation, Greenpeace and many others. The letter has also been signed by celebrities such as Mark Ruffalo, Shailene Woodley, Ed Norton, among many others.

DATE: Monday, 14 November 2016

TIME: 12:00 to 12:30 (30 minutes)

LOCATION: Press Conference 2 Room, Dakhla, Blue Zone

SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

- Greg Muttitt, Oil Change International: The lay of the Land; what’s happening where in terms of fossil fuel projects globally.
- Nicole Oliveira, 350.org: On the Ground; the direct impacts of fossil fuel projects on communities and lives.
- Joeri Rogelj, Climate Scientist: The Carbon Budget; What happens if we continue with ongoing fossil fuel projects.
- Li Shuo, Greenpeace: The future; The terminal decline of coal, renewable energy, and the still-growing global movement.

Moderated by Faiza Oulahsen, Greenpeace Netherlands

The live letter delivery event will begin at 11:00 am in front of the restaurants on the causeway, all are welcome