

Romina Picolotti

President, Center for Human Rights and Environment (CEDHA) January 2009
Senior Strategy Advisor, Intitute for Governance and Sustainable Development January 2009
Professor Climate Justice, University of California 2012
Climate and Clean Air Coalition Steering Committee August 2012 (CCAC)

From 1994 to 2015 lived and worked in Cambodia and Latin America. Author of several books on the matter.

Distinguished Recognition

- International Recognition of on the 21 thinkers on environmental protection –Italy 2013
- Climate Protection Award 2008 (EPA). For securing global commitments to reduce ozone pollutants
- Montreal Protocol Award 2007. In recognition of exceptional efforts to comply with the Montreal Protocol
- Highest Environmental Protection Award. 2008 National University of Mexico and Mexican Bar Association
- Sophie Prize 2006. Norwegian prize given to one advocate globally promoting innovative sustainable development
- Outstanding Neighbor Award 2006. Municipality of Córdoba for excellence in outstanding local presence
- Year's Most Outstanding Youth Award - 2005 from Córdoba Province for outstanding public service
- Peter Ciccino Award. 2002. American University for outstanding contributions to international public interest

Climate Change Mitigation Highlights

The last decade Romina has dedicated her efforts to promote and catalyze fast mitigation actions. She helped to found the Climate and Clean Air Coalition to reduce short-lived climate pollutants. She works with developing countries on actions to reduce air pollution and mitigate climate change. She was instrumental in getting the Kigali Amendenment to the Montreal Protocol to phase down HFCs which is estimated to deliver up to 0.5C of avoided warming. She is currently focused on increasing energy efficiency while implementing the Kigali Amendmetn which can deliver another 0.5C of avoided warming