Ecological Management Promote the Welfare of Human Being

November 9th Wednesday, 9:00-11:00

Combining with domestic and international partners, China Green Carbon Foundation tells China's forestry story to show the successful experience of China's forestry reform and innovation as well as foreign positive cases to benefit more developing countries on forestry development. It provides a great platform for the world forestry workers to exchange good experiences and ideas. Furthermore, it contributes to address global climate change and improve human being welfare. The side event is co-organized by China National Development and Reform Commission (NDRC), China Green Carbon Foundation, and Qiaonv Foundation, with support from the Center for International Forestry Research (CIFOR), the International Network for Bamboo and Rattan (INBAR), and the World Wildlife Fund (WWF).

9:00-9:10	Brief Introduction Leader from NDRC Climate Division
9:10-10:45	The Target and Action of China's Forestry to Address Climate Change Dr. LI Nuyun, Vice President and Secretary-General
	Forestry and Climate Change in Asia Dr. Grace Wong, CIFOR Chinese Officer
	Eco-governance and Enterprise's Action: Pledge the Earth to Have a Bright Future Mrs He Qiaonv, Chairperson of Orient Landscape Co. Ltd., President of Qiaonv Foundation
	Forest Resource Sustainable Application to Raise Ability of Addressing Climate Change Dr. Louis Neves Silva, WWF Sweden Officer
	China's Bamboo Forest Carbon Sequestration Practices Promote South-South cooperation Dr. Hans Friederich, Director General of INBAR
	Low-carbon Education for the Teenager in China JI Jinghang, Hangzhou Low-carbon Science Technology Museum, China.
	Shanghai Dream-- Green Creative with Fairy Way, Low-carbon Action Turn Ruin into Paradise Dr. Jian Taojie, Chief Executive Officer, Shanghai Andersen Paradise Co.,Ltd
10:45-11:00	Panel Discussion

Climate Change and Rural Development

November 10th Thursday, 14:00-16:10

The impact of climate change on rural communities has become a common development issue of Southern countries. Due to climate change, the vulnerability of Southern countries is considerably high while the adaptive capability is weak, which calls for great attention from the international society. Representatives from Southern countries will be invited to join this side event to share their experiences and to discuss about further cooperation opportunities. The side event is cost-hosted by National Center for Climate Change Strategy and International Cooperation (NCSC) and Chinese Academy of Agricultural Science.

Moderator: ZHANG Zhiqiang, Deputy Director, Information and Training Department, NCSC, China
14:00-16:00	Persevere in Low-carbon Development and Construct the Beautiful Henan City WANG Yanzhang, Deputy Director General of Henan Province Development and Reform Commission, China
	Experience Sharing of Climate Resilience Partnership Project in Nam Dinh Province of Vietnam Vu Minh Hai, Manager of Building Resilience of Oxfam in Vietnam
	How to Integrate Climate Change into Rural Planning and Designing Howard LIU, Director of China Programme Unit of Oxfam Hong Kong. China
	Experience Sharing of Rural Communities in Myanmar Participating in South-South Climate Cooperation U Kyaw Kyaw Linn, Deputy Director-General of Forest Department, Ministry of Natural Resources and Environmental Conservation of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar (MONREC) U Win Aung, CEO of Myanmar Environment Innovation Foundation (MEIF) and Honorary Fellow of the Blue Moon Fund (BMF)
	Experience Sharing of Climate Change and Poverty Alleviation Practices in China LI Yingchun, Associate Researcher of Chinese Academy of Agricultural Science
16:00-16:10	Conclusion Representative from Department of Climate Change, National Development and Reform Commission (NDRC)

China Carbon Emission Trading Market

November 11th Friday, 9:00-12:40

The side event will introduce the latest progress of China carbon emission trading market construction and its positive impact on China's green development strategy. Meanwhile, the participants will have the panel discussion on the international ETS operation experience and typical business experiences and practices. This event is co-hosted by the Climate Change Department of Department of Climate Change, National Development and Reform Commission (NDRC), National Center for Climate Change Strategies and International Cooperation (NCSC), the World Bank Group, Tsinghua University, Australia National University, IETA, Beijing Environment Exchange, Beijing Green Finance Association, National ETS Capacity Building Center (Beijing) and China Low Carbon Alliance, supported and organized by Sino Carbon.

Moderator: JIANG Zhaoli, Deputy Director, Department of Climate Change, NDRC, China
9:00-9:20	Opening Remarks Representative from Department of Climate Change, NDRC, China Laura Tuck, Vice President, the World Bank Group Dirk Forester, Chairman, IETA
9:20-10:20	Construction Progress and Future Prospect of China Carbon Emission Trading Market JIANG Zhaoli, Deputy Director, Department of Climate Change, NDRC, China State and Trend of Carbon Pricing and Its Global Impacts John Roome, Senior Director, Climate Change, the World Bank Group Key issues of National Carbon Market Construction and the Study of Enterprise CO₂ Emissions Reporting System XU Huaqing, Deputy Director, NCSC Development of China ETS: Experience of Pilot ETS and National ETS Construction Progress DUAN Maosheng, Professor, Tsinghua University
10:20-10:30	Tea Break
10:30-11:30	Panel Discussion 1: International Experience and Policy Research Moderator: ZHANG Xin, Director of Carbon Market Management Department, NCSC Latest Progress of International ETS Dirk Forrister, President, IETA The Reform of EU ETS for Phase 4 and its lessons for China
