

United Nations Climate Change Conference
COP 15 and CMP 5
Copenhagen, 7-18 December 2009

Daily Programme

Part Two

Special announcement

Further to the note by the Executive Secretary, the system to regulate access by IGOs/NGOs to the Bella Center has been implemented.

Beginning Tuesday, 15 December, no one without a secondary card will be allowed to enter the Bella Center to register. Please contact your organization focal point to obtain a secondary card to expedite this process. The secondary card system will allow 7,000 IGOs and NGOs to access the Bella Center on Tuesday 15th and Wednesday 16th December. Access on Thursday, 17th December will be for 1,000 accredited participants from IGOs and NGOs.

Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.

Distribution of NGO tickets to the plenary hall

While site access cards are distributed through the designated contact point of each organization, tickets to the plenary halls will be distributed to NGOs through constituencies, due to a limited number of cards for NGOs. The tickets will allow 450 NGO representatives into the welcoming ceremony of the High Level Segment on Tuesday, 15th December. New sets of 300 tickets will be issued for attendance at the plenary on 16th December and 17th December respectively.

Please contact the respective focal point of your constituency:

Events

For a full schedule of side events during the sessions and a list of the exhibits, please see the brochure "...inSide climate change", available from the Information desk, or visit the UNFCCC website. The secretariat would like to note that the scheduling of events remains dependent upon the demands of the negotiating process. For short-term changes please consult the CCTV monitors.

Nobel Peace Prize laureate Wangari Maathai becomes a United Nations Messenger of Peace

United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon has designated 2004 Nobel Peace Prize laureate Wangari Maathai as a United Nations Messenger of Peace with a special focus on the environment and climate change.

Professor Maathai will be inducted by the Secretary-General today, 15 December 2009, at 15:30, in Auditorium Elvira Madigan. Participation is open and media will be allowed to pose questions at the conclusion.

Recognized for her work in support of the environment, democracy and women's rights, Professor Maathai joins eleven other United Nations Messengers of Peace who advocate on behalf of the United Nations.

Messengers of Peace are individuals who possess widely recognized talents in the fields of art, academia, literature, sports and entertainment, helping to raise worldwide awareness of the United Nations' ideals and activities. Through their public appearances and contacts with the international media and humanitarian work, they expand public understanding of how the United Nations helps to improve the lives of people everywhere.

Side events

| Time | Organizer | Title/Theme | Venue |
|-----------------|---|---|----------------------|
| 09:00– 10:30 | Erasmus University Rotterdam, Transnational Institute, University of California Ms. Gail Whiteman gwhiteman@rsm.nl +31 10 4081515 | Climate justice, ethics and the Copenhagen agenda: Roles of institutions, civil society and markets Ms. Mary Robinson and other leaders from the public, academic and NGO sectors will lead a discussion on emerging institutions and processes for applying equity and human rights to guide the long-term vision and decision-making on mitigation, adaptation, REDD, carbon markets and technology transfer. | Liva Weel |
| 09:00– 10:30 | IVL Swedish Environmental Research Institute Ltd., Action for a Global Climate Community (AGCC) Ms. Charlotte Nilsson charlotte.nilsson@ivl.se +46 8 59856310 | Climate justice and sustainable development: Intensifying the dialogue between EU, India and China A case for a climate community – north and south – able to lead the world in tackling climate destabilisation within the context of economic development will be presented. It includes opportunities and critical elements for increasing the engagement of China and India in climate policy development. | Halfdan Rasmussen |

|-----------------|---|--|-------------------|
| 09:00– 10:30 | Association Européenne des Expositions Scientifiques, Techniques et Industrielles (ECSITE), World Ocean Network (WON), International Coastal and Ocean Organization (ICO) Mr. Michael Creek mcreek@ecsite.eu +32 26 497383 | Science centres, museums and aquaria commit to action on climate change Science centres and museums play a crucial role in public engagement on climate change. At COP 15, Ecsite invites researchers, policymakers, and civil society to discuss the challenges in engaging citizens on climate change issues, and establishing real dialogue with the public. | Niels Bohr |
| 09:00– 10:30 | Plan International (Plan), Ryerson University Mr. Daniel Walden daniel.walden@plan-international.org +44 207 4829777 | Child-centred climate change adaptation: Applying lessons from disaster risk reduction The world's children are already playing an important role in reducing disaster risk and ensuring effective climate adaptation. It is their future. Children in a Changing Climate coalition (Save the Children, UNICEF, Plan International, IDS) discuss lessons from child-centred disaster risk reduction. | Victor Borge |
| 10:45– 12:15 | International Transport Forum (ITF), Institution for Transport Policy Studies (ITPS) Mr. Philippe Crist philippe.crist@oecd.org +33 1 45249447 | Major transport emission reductions: What is possible? At what cost? Facing economy-wide GHG cuts of up to 80% by 2050, the event reviews evidence on what is possible for transport, what is feasible and how much is it likely to cost. | Niels Bohr |
| 10:45– 12:15 | World Resources Institute (WRI) Ms. Raquel Gonzalez rgonzalez@wri.org +1 202 7297847 | The best laid plans - turning ideas into action on mitigation, adaptation and finance. The climate agreement will prompt countries to produce plans for mitigation, adaptation, technology and forests. This event will explore opportunities for implementing these transformative ideas. | Liva Weel |
| 10:45– 12:15 | OXFAM International (OI) Mr. Bert Maerten bmaerten@oxfam.org.uk +66 80 2104873 | Oxfam international climate hearing at Copenhagen Oxfam organized hundreds of climate hearings. The COP hearing will be the culmination of this effort. The hearing will include climate witnesses from around the world and moral voices. Mr. Desmond Tutu and Ms. Mary Robinson are confirmed. | Halfdan Rasmussen |
| 10:45– 12:15 | Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) Ms. Norma Rivera normar@iadb.org +1 202 6231356 | Moving forward in Latin America: Best practices for renewables, efficiency, and climate financing Looking beyond Copenhagen: What are best approaches and what have Latin American and Caribbean countries learned from recent investments in biofuels, renewable energy, and efficiency? How can finance be leveraged and scaled-up? Experts from the IDB, governments and private sector analyze examples. | Victor Borge |

| 13:00– 14:30 | Norway Mr. Harold Nordgaard harold.nordgaard@ md.dep.no +0 47 92870070 | State-of-the-art-report: Melting ice. Melting Ice is a report commissioned by Mr. Al Gore and Norwegian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Jonas Gahr Stoere, on the status of and future scenarios for the melting of ice in affected areas of the world. At this event scientists behind the report are present and will speak about present main findings and conclusions. | Halfdan Rasmussen |
| 13:00– 14:30 | International Labour Organization (ILO), World Health Organization (WHO), United Nations Development Fund for Women (UNIFEM) Ms. Ana Belen Sanchez sanchezab@ilo.org +34 66 7449090 | Addressing social consequences of climate change: Impacts on employment, health and gender The event will explore the climate change impacts on employment, as a driver of creation of green jobs and a cause for job losses, on health – around 150,000 deaths per year occur in low-income countries due to climate change- and gender – women are often the first and most impacted by climate change. | Victor Borge |
| 13:00– 14:30 | World Bank, United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) Mr. Jarl Krausing jkrausing@worldbank.org +1 202 4589326 | Financing climate action in developing countries: A United Nations system perspective The event will share examples of joint efforts in scaling up access to such finance. | Niels Bohr |
| 13:00– 14:30 | Mexico Ms. Alejandra Lopez alejandra@sre.gob.mx +52 55 3686510072 | A developing country’s contribution to climate change: Mexico As part of its commitment to the international effort to climate change, Mexico will present its progress on several areas including its Special Climate Change Program, its Fourth National Communication, the outcomes of its Economics of Climate Change Report, among other things. | Liva Weel |
| 13:30– 14:30 | Secretariat of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change Mr. Bernardo Buechner bbuechner@unfccc.int +45 5077 3474 | Joint Side Event – Governor of São Paulo Jose Serra and Governor of California Arnold Schwarzenegger A limited number of tickets for this event will be available on a first come first serve basis at the UNFCCC Information Counter from 10:00. | Astra Nielsen |
| 16:30– 17:20 | The Alliance for Climate Protection Ms. Kalee Kreider press@carthagegroup.com +1 615 3272227 | Former Vice President Gore’s Remarks to COP 15 As chairman of the Alliance for Climate Protection, former Vice President Gore will discuss the the climate crisis and the need for action, the crucial role of the Summit, and the role of the United States and other key countries. A limited number of tickets for this event will be available on a first come first serve basis at the UNFCCC Information Counter from 11:00. | CCTV |

| 16:30– 17:30 | The Climate Registry (TCR), Georgetown University Ms. Robyn Camp robyn@ theclimateregistry.org +1 213 8916931 | Beyond Cap and Trade: Subnational leadership - sooner. Stronger. US Governors, Canadian Premiers and other subnational leaders possess effective policy tools to reduce emissions – through cap and trade, smart growth, transportation policy, local standards and laws, and more. These local thinkers share the actions that make them true global leaders. A limited number of tickets for this event will be available on a first come first serve basis at the UNFCCC Information Counter from 1 p.m. | Victor Borge |
| 18:00– 20:00 | Slovenia Mr. Andrej Kranjc andrej.kranjc@gov.si +38 64 61807 | Institutional set-up of REDD and the involvement of the private sector The event is organised by the Asia-Europe Foundation and will address questions related to the current barriers to the participation of the private sector in a future REDD scheme and present some ideas of how these can be removed as well as what the institutional set-up for the REDD under the UNFCCC framework could look like. | EU Pavilion |
| 20:00– 21:30 | Carbon Markets and Investors Association (CMIA) Ms. Alexandra Galin alexandra.galin@cmia.net +1 202 2942262 | What the private sector needs from Copenhagen to enable finance to flow to low-carbon technology A panel of experts will discuss how to build investor confidence in carbon markets to ensure that "capital expected" becomes "capital delivered". | Saxo Grammaticus |
| 20:00– 21:30 | United Arab Emirates Mr. Thani Al Zeyoudi talzayoudi@masdar.ae +971 2 6530030 | Meet IRENA: Renewable energy - our chance to mitigate climate change IRENA and REN21, together with the IEA, the IEA RETD, and EREC/Greenpeace, will present the leading renewable energy scenarios to show how renewables can help meet CO₂ reduction targets and secure affordable energy supply. | Halfdan Rasmussen |
| 20:00– 21:30 | IUCN - International Union for Conservation of Nature Ms. Ninni Ikkala ninni.ikkala@iucn.org +41 22 9990106 | Biodiversity in trouble: Ways forward in a changing climate Severe ecosystem declines are predicted due to climate change and damage is already clearly apparent in coral reefs, polar and high altitude habitats and for a wide range of species. This event highlights recent scientific findings and explores possible conservation solutions. | Niels Bohr |
| 20:00– 21:30 | Haiti, Côte d'Ivoire Mr. Yves Jamont Junior Duplan yves.jamont.junior.duplan@undp.org +0 0 5093760457 | The Caribbean biological corridor: A case for mitigation and adaptation to climate change Cuba, Haiti and Dominican Republic have signed an agreement creating the first Caribbean biological corridor. The event will focus on how the Corridor contributes in building sustainable livelihoods through mitigation and adaptation measures to climate change. | Liva Weel |

| | | | |
|-----------------|--|--|--------------|
| 20:00– 21:30 | Armenia Ms. Nune Hovhannisyan nuneoganesyan@rambler.ru +374 10 585349 | Cutting the carbon knot: Raising public awareness for GHG emission cuts through pollutant registers Organized by Armenia in cooperation with the International PRTR Coordinating Group (UNECE, UNEP, UNITAR, OECD & REC), this event looks at how countries can use pollutant release and transfer registers to raise public awareness about major sources of GHGs to promote emission reductions. | Victor Borge |
| 20:00– 21:30 | United Nations Environment Programme/Environment Management Group (UNEP/EMG) Mr. Aniket Ghai aniket.ghai@unep.ch +41 79 2059831 | First steps towards a low-carbon United Nations Following the call by the Secretary-General to safeguard our planet and climate, first steps have been taken to manage the greenhouse gas impact arising from the United Nations's operations. This event will review progress made in a selection of the diverse array of institutions that make up the UN system. | Dan Turell |

U.S. Center science presentations featuring Science on a Sphere ®

The U.S. Center is located in Hall C

| | | |
|-------------|---|--------------------------|
| 09:00–10:00 | EPA domestic climate change activities U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA): This presentation will showcase a set of key activities such as the renewable fuel standard, endangerment finding, light-duty vehicle greenhouse gas rule and mandatory reporting rule. EPA officials will discuss policies or programmes. | U.S. Center Meeting room |
| 10:15–11:15 | Oceans and ecosystems in a changing climate National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA): Various factors associated with global climate change are adversely affecting the oceans and ocean ecosystems, as well as coastal communities in the United States and internationally. Warming ocean temperatures combined with melting ice sheets and glaciers are contributing to sea level rise. NOAA Administrator Dr. Jane Lubchenco will lead a panel of experts to discuss these issues. | U.S. Center Meeting room |

| 11:30– 12:30 | Driving down emissions, driving up fuel efficiency: Coordinating a groundbreaking national vehicle policy U.S. Department of Transportation and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency: In May 2009, U.S. President Barack Obama announced a new National Fuel Efficiency Policy aimed at both increasing fuel economy and reducing greenhouse gas pollution for all new cars and trucks sold in the United States. This policy responds to the country’s critical need to address global climate change and to reduce oil consumption. | U.S. Center Meeting room |
| 12:45– 14:00 | Clean energy investments: Creating opportunities for rural economies Secretary of Agriculture Mr. Tom Vilsack will share how the administration is actively partnering with farmers, ranchers and those who make a living off the land to create the solutions. | U.S. Center Meeting room |
| 14:15– 15:15 | Sustainable communities U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA): Sustainable communities – in the form of efficient, compact development where walking, biking, transit, and car or ride-sharing are easy to access – can contribute significantly to reducing greenhouse gas emissions and improving environmental conditions. | U.S. Center Meeting room |
| 16:45– 17:45 | Climate change and biodiversity: Advancing positive solutions U.S. Department of Energy (DOE): Pioneering efforts are underway to expand and link core wilderness areas with climate adaptation corridors that give plants and animals the room to respond to changing climates. The design and implementation of these dynamic conservation landscapes is driving advances in forecasting how species and ecosystems will respond to future climates. | U.S. Center Meeting room |
| 18:00– 19:00 | Climate change in the Arctic: Working together to keep communities and indigenous culture intact Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation: Alaska is home to about 13,000 indigenous people, many of whom live in small communities, unconnected to any road system and widely spread along the Arctic coast of this vast state. The way of life these native Alaskans have followed for centuries is now being threatened by a warming environment. | U.S. Center Meeting room |

| 10:30– 12:30 | The Netherlands Mr. Leo Meyer leo.meyer@pbl.nl +31 6 520 985 68 | Are we prepared for a worst case? - News in climate science since IPCC's last report. An internationally reviewed assessment of Dutch research institutes addresses the question: “Can policy makers in 2009 still rely on the outcomes of IPCC?” If climate change would occur faster than projected, are effective worst case climate policies available for policy makers? | Room Schuman |
| 13:00– 15:00 | Sweden Ms. Angela Churie Kallhauge angela.kallhauge@energimyndigheten.se +46 16 544 22 41 | Mentoring to empower African CDM project developers The event will present the approach taken by Climate Business Network to empowering CDM project developers. The approach –evolved – over years of providing CDM assistance – is being applied in East Africa under a Swedish Energy Agency programme in collaboration with SIDA. | Room Monnet |
| 13:00– 15:00 | Germany Ms. Sabine Bock sabine.bock@wecf.eu +49 89 2323938-12 | CDM access for households and community projects The need and the potential for sustainable energy projects in households and on a community level in developing countries is huge. The current clean development mechanism is hardly accessible at this level. Is this a reason for the unfair geographical distribution of CDM projects? | Room Schuman |
| 15:30– 17:30 | Poland Mr. Jacek Mizak jacek.mizak@mos.gov.pl +48 22 579 23 23 | Embedding climate change into rural policy The aim of this side event is to discuss the contribution of rural policies to the GHG reduction targets and mitigation. It will refer to the CAP as an example of a policy, which already today includes many instruments in this respect. | Room Monnet |
| 15:30– 17:30 | DG RTD, European Commission Mr. Wolfram Schrimpf wolfram.schrimpf@ec.europa.eu +32 229 71 504 | EU combats climate change with research on low carbon technologies The objective of this side event is to inform policy makers, stakeholders, NGOs and media of the EU research on low carbon energy technologies. Relevant initiatives and projects will be presented – including ITER – as well as analyses of costs and contribution of each technology. | Room Schuman |
| 18:00– 20:00 | Slovenia Mr. Andrej Kranjc andrej.kranjc@gov.si | Institutional set-up of REDD and the involvement of the private sector The event will address questions related to the current barriers to the participation of the private sector in a future REDD scheme. Ideas how these can be removed will be presented as well as what the institutional set-up for the REDD under the UNFCCC framework could look like. | Room Monnet |
| 18:00– 20:00 | Germany Mr. Tom Koenen t.koenen@econsense.de | Sustainable business concepts for tomorrow The European Commission and the business community have worked collaboratively to enhance Europe's innovative capacity and how to improve energy efficiency and sustainable development. Experts will discuss what can be done in creating favourable framework conditions, taking on the challenge. | Room Schuman |

Holland Climate House

The Holland Climate House is located in Hall C7

| | |
|--|---|
| Organized by: Dutch Regional Water Authorities, Provinces of Utrecht, Drenthe and Zuid-Holland, Associations of Provinces (IPO), Research programmes Climate changes Spatial Planning (CcSP) and Knowledge for Climate (KfC) | |
| 10:00– 11:30 | More rain, no wet feet – how can we manage water in the city? Dutch water authorities and provinces present initiatives to prepare the Dutch delta for climate change and make urban areas climate proof. |
| 11:30– 12:30 | Ground for change – bridging energy planning and spatial design strategies Building a sustainable energy system will affect our environment, and our physical environment will influence our energy system. We present “Grounds for Change” and the opportunities discovered in the north of the Netherlands. |
| 12:30– 14:00 | Film: Province of Utrecht Climate Neutral and Resilient by 2040 The Province of Utrecht aims to be climate neutral and climate proof by 2040. A short film about adaptation and mitigation initiatives in the Province of Utrecht followed by a discussion with the audience. |
| 14:00– 15:00 | Research and practice together for a climate-proof planning Researchers and policy makers from the provinces work closely together to climate-proof the Netherlands. Examples of some of their projects are presented. |
| 15:00– 16:00 | Climate change, a dry and salty taste In the coming decades salinization of ground and surface water could become an increasing threat for agriculture and nature. Ongoing research will be presented and possible measures and strategies are going to be discussed. |
| 16:00– 17:00 | Regional governments can make the difference Short presentations about adaptation followed by a panel discussion with vice-governors of Dutch provinces and others. |
| 19:30– 21:00 | Drinks and buffet Mr. Hugo von Meijenfeldt, the Netherlands’ special envoy for climate change, will give the keynote speech and participate in a panel discussion with representatives from developing countries during “Climate change adaptation – building bridges between North and South”. The event will include a book launch. |
