Remote Internship Assignment

Adaptation Division
Vulnerability sub-division

Application deadline	Announcement number	Duration of assignment
03 December 2021	21/Intern31/Adaptation-NWP	Three to six months

Background

This position is located in the UNFCCC secretariat in Bonn, Germany, in the Adaptation division, and more specifically the Vulnerability subdivision which catalyses knowledge-sharing; enhances learning on, and understanding of, needs and action in response to climate change impacts for different sectors and groups; and manages a trusted repository of adaptation data and information.

The Vulnerability subdivision consists of two units:

1. The NWP unit supports the Nairobi work programme on impacts, vulnerability and adaptation to climate change (NWP), including the Lima Adaptation Knowledge Initiative (LAKI).
2. The LCIPP unit supports the Local Communities and Indigenous Peoples Platform (LCIPP) and its Facilitative Working Group (FWG).

The intern reports to the Team Lead of the NWP unit and provides support to the Nairobi work programme.

Objective of the remote internship and responsibilities

The intern will work with the members of the Vulnerability subdivision and under the supervision of the lead officer for the NWP workstream.

The intern is expected to contribute to the workstreams of the Vulnerability subdivision and in particular the NWP. Primary tasks include:

- Undertaking research and analytical tasks, including in various thematic areas (e.g. agriculture and food security, biodiversity and oceans):
 - Compiling and analyzing background documents to assist in the preparation of mandated documents and knowledge products;
 - Conducting quantitative analysis of data/information;
 - Undertaking research and literature reviews based on available guidelines;
- Contributing towards the organization and delivery of meetings and events:
 - Support implementation of the Lima Adaptation Knowledge Initiative (LAKI), including providing support for the organization of priority-setting workshops, disseminating workshop outcomes, conducting LAKI stakeholder outreach and engagement in sub-regions;
 - Participating in relevant meetings and events, with a view to gain understanding of issues under other adaptation work streams, the workings of the UNFCCC and its organizational culture;
- Contributing to content curation and management:
 - Supporting content management via the NWP Adaptation Knowledge Portal as well as relevant UNFCCC pages;
 - Producing video and audio contents and infographs to extend the reach of the work of the subdivision to diverse stakeholders and contributors;

- Supporting communication and outreach activities:
 - Assisting with outreach and communication via social media, e-newsletter, newsroom articles and other appropriate channels to make the work of the NWP widely accessible;
 - Developing and conducting survey of knowledge users and developing other tools to understand knowledge needs of these intended users (baseline) as well as measure the uptake of the knowledge products developed by the NWP unit by these users;
 - Providing communication assistance to events and meetings through drafting pre-event outreach materials, taking notes during event, and preparing post event summary note;
- Assisting in activities requested by Vulnerability subdivision manager and Adaptation Division director as needed.

Timeframe

The remote internship is for a minimum period of three and maximum of six months within the period January 2022 to April 2023. The exact period will be determined based on the availability of the intern and the needs of the division.

Minimum requirements
