OTHER USEFUL INFORMATION

Meeting Etiquette

Men shake hands when greeting one another, while maintaining steady eye contact.
Women generally kiss each other, starting with the left and alternating cheeks.
Hugging and backslapping are common greetings among Brazilian friends.
If a woman wishes to shake hands with a man, she should extend her hand first.

Gift Giving Etiquette

If invited to a Brazilian's house, bring the hostess flowers or a small gift.
Orchids are considered a very nice gift, but avoid purple ones.
Avoid giving anything purple or black as these are mourning colours.
Handkerchiefs are also associated with funerals, so they do not make good gifts.
Gifts are opened when received.

Dining Etiquette

If you are invited to a Brazilian's house:
Arrive at least 30 minutes late if the invitation is for dinner.
Arrive up to an hour late for a party or large gathering.
Brazilians dress with a flair and judge others on their appearance. Casual dress is more formal than in many other countries. Always dress elegantly and err on the side of over-dressing rather than under- dressing.
If you did not bring a gift to the hostess, flowers the next day are always appreciated.

CLIMATE:

November is one of the hottest months in Rio de Janeiro. The weather is generally warm and moist. The rainy season is during summer (December through March), but at this time could have some showers. The average temperature should be around 26°C and the relative humidity of the air around 85 per cent.

Clothing

Please carry summer clothing.

ELECTRICITY VOLTAGE:

Rio de Janeiro is 110 or 120 volts.

CURRENCY AND BANKING:

The Brazilian currency is Real (R$). The currency is floating around R$ 2.00/ 2.30 for US$ 1.00

We do advice to exchange some amount of money at the airport. Taxis, restaurants and stores usually do not accept any international currency. Cash and traveler checks, especially US Dollars, can be exchanged at most banks or exchange houses as well as the major hotels. All major credit cards are widely accepted in Brazil. The South American Hotel accepts US Dollars but a fee will be charged.

SECURITY

Visitors should limit the amount of cash they carry and leave valuables, such as passports, jewellery, and airline tickets in a hotel safe or other secure place.
