

In all cases in the context of support, where it says “developing country Parties”, read “developing country Parties and other Parties in need of support, including countries with economies in transition (EITs)”

In all cases in the context of support, where it says “developed countries”, read “developed countries and countries in a position to do so”.