

Ms. Stephanie Ockenden

Economist/Policy analyst, Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)

Stephanie Ockenden is an economist and policy analyst in the OECD's Development Co-operation Directorate, focusing on the measurement and monitoring of climate and environment-related development finance. In particular, Stephanie co-leads the Secretariat for the Joint ENVIRONET-WP-STAT Task Team on the OECD DAC Rio markers.

Prior to the OECD, Stephanie held numerous positions in the UK Civil Service. Mostly recently at the UK Department of Energy and Climate Change, providing economic advice on DECC's £1bn share of the UK International Climate Fund, and in a separate posting providing analysis to set the level of the "fourth carbon budget"- the UK's 2023-7 domestic GHG emissions target.
