

Mr. Takashi Hongo

Senior Fellow, Mitsui Global Strategic Studies Institute

Takashi Hongo has been involved in environment projects and the consideration of environment policy measures such as climate change, water shortage and bio diversity.

He developed various environment related instruments including Environment Guideline, MRV Guideline and initiated many studies such as Weather Index Insurance for Agriculture, when he served for Japan Bank for International Cooperation.

He has contributed to the IPCC, UNFCCC, World Bank, Asian Development Bank, IEA, UNEP, GLOBE International, and Japanese government and local authorities.

He has written numerous articles, including APEC “Green Growth Green Finance”, ADB Institute “Reforms of Private Financing toward Green Growth Asia”, and UNFCCC Long Term Finance “Definition and reporting system of Climate Finance”.

He is member of Board of Directors at the International Emission Trading Association, Advisory Committee for Global Green Growth Institute, GMTF for International Civil Aviation Organization and technology evaluation committee of NEDO.