

Iain Henderson

Iain Henderson joined UNEP Finance Initiative in Geneva in 2012 and leads UNEP FI's work on REDD+ and Sustainable Land Use.

Prior to that he was based in Hong Kong with WWF working on sustainable finance. Iain spent over a decade in investment banking in the Fixed Income, Currencies and Commodities divisions of UBS and Deutsche Bank in a variety of sales, structuring and risk management roles.

He has an undergraduate degree in Geography from Oxford University and postgraduate qualifications in Management, Economics & Politics (St. Andrews) and Agricultural Economics (SOAS). He became a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) in 2002 and is a member of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Forests.