

Maria Sanz Sánchez

Ms. Sánchez is currently working as a program coordinator at UN-REDD.

Prior to this, Ms. Sánchez has worked as Director for the Air Pollution Effects and Atmospheric Chemistry Program at the Centre for Environmental studies in the Mediterranean (Spain, 2000 – 2007).

She then worked as Senior Officer at the UNFCCC Secretariat, leading the support for negotiations on LULUCF, Agriculture and REDD (2007 – 2011), before she joined the Climate Change Research Institute as Scientific Director (2011 – 2012).

Ms. Sánchez has also been a member of the Spanish Delegation and Advisor to the Ministry of Environment for Climate Change Negotiations (2000 – 2007), and a member of the CDM Executive Board, representing Europe in 2007