

NATIONAL ADAPTATION PLAN – SURINAME

Ivette Patterzon

Ministry of Spatial Planning and Environment

Content

01

NAP objectives

02

NAP specific goals

03

Process of NAP Development

04

NAP Methodology

05

NAP Sectors

06

Roadmap to Action

07

Where are we now?

NAP Objectives

- Enables Suriname to conduct comprehensive medium and long-term climate adaptation planning
- Builds on the country's existing adaptation activities and other climate documents
- Mainstreaming climate change into national decision-making

NAP Specific Goals

The goals are twofold:

- Impact reduction through adaptation and resiliency building
- Integration and mainstreaming into relevant new and existing policies, programmes, activities and development planning processes, across multiple sectors and levels as appropriate

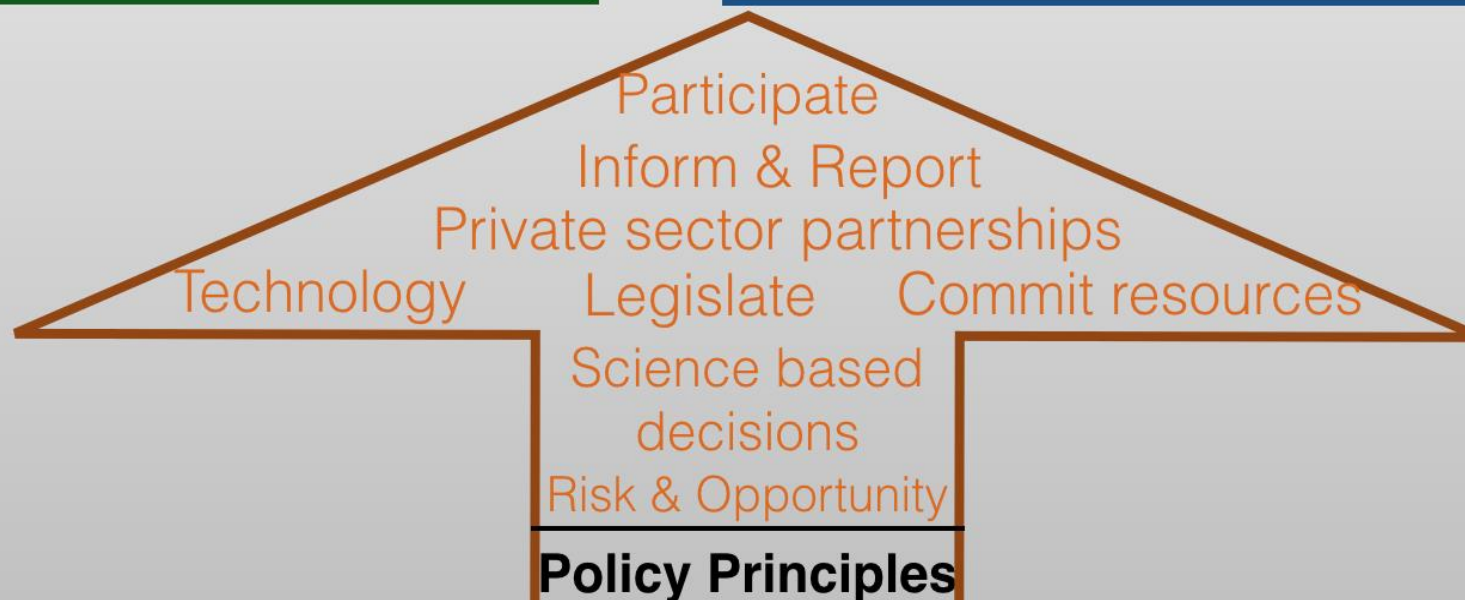

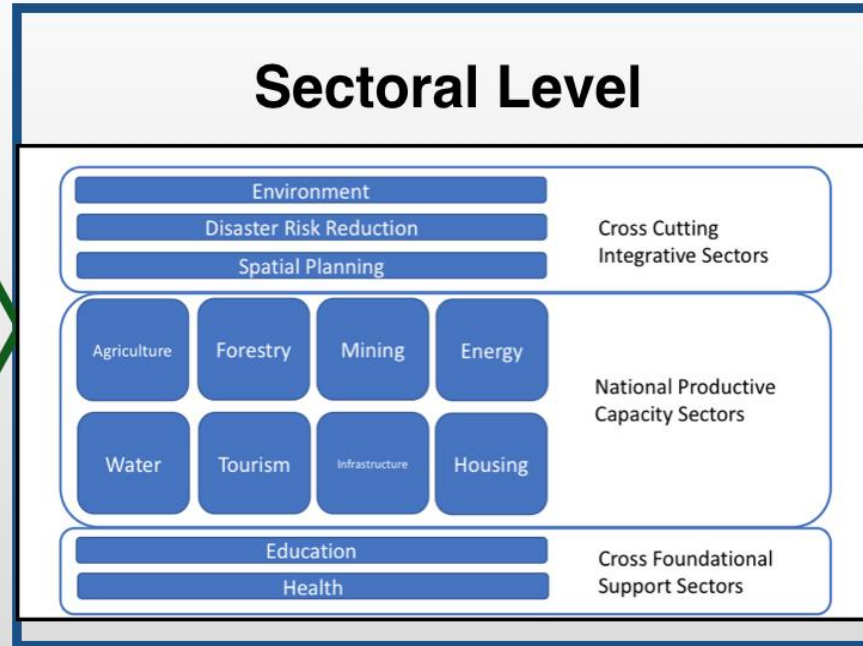

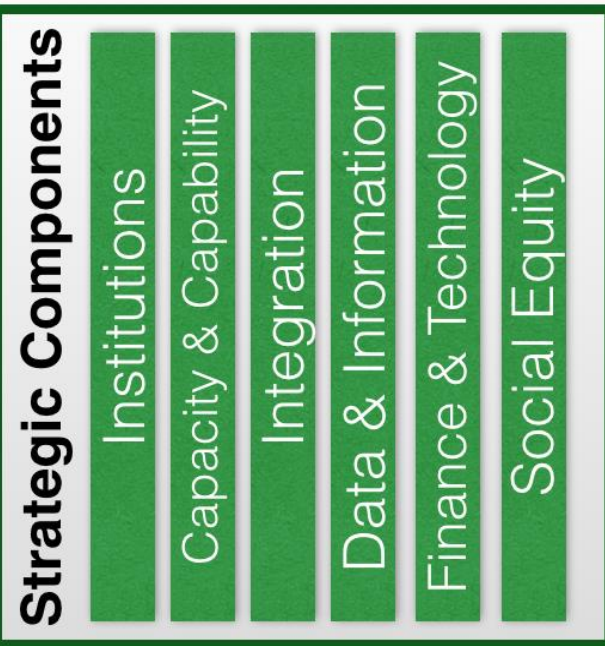

Process of the NAP Development

- Started as part of the J-CCCP project (2015 - 2019)
- Builds on the National Climate Change Policy Strategy and Action Plan (NCCPSAP) and the institutional arrangements for Climate Change
- Specific Country methodology based on UNFCCC guidelines
- Stakeholder engagement

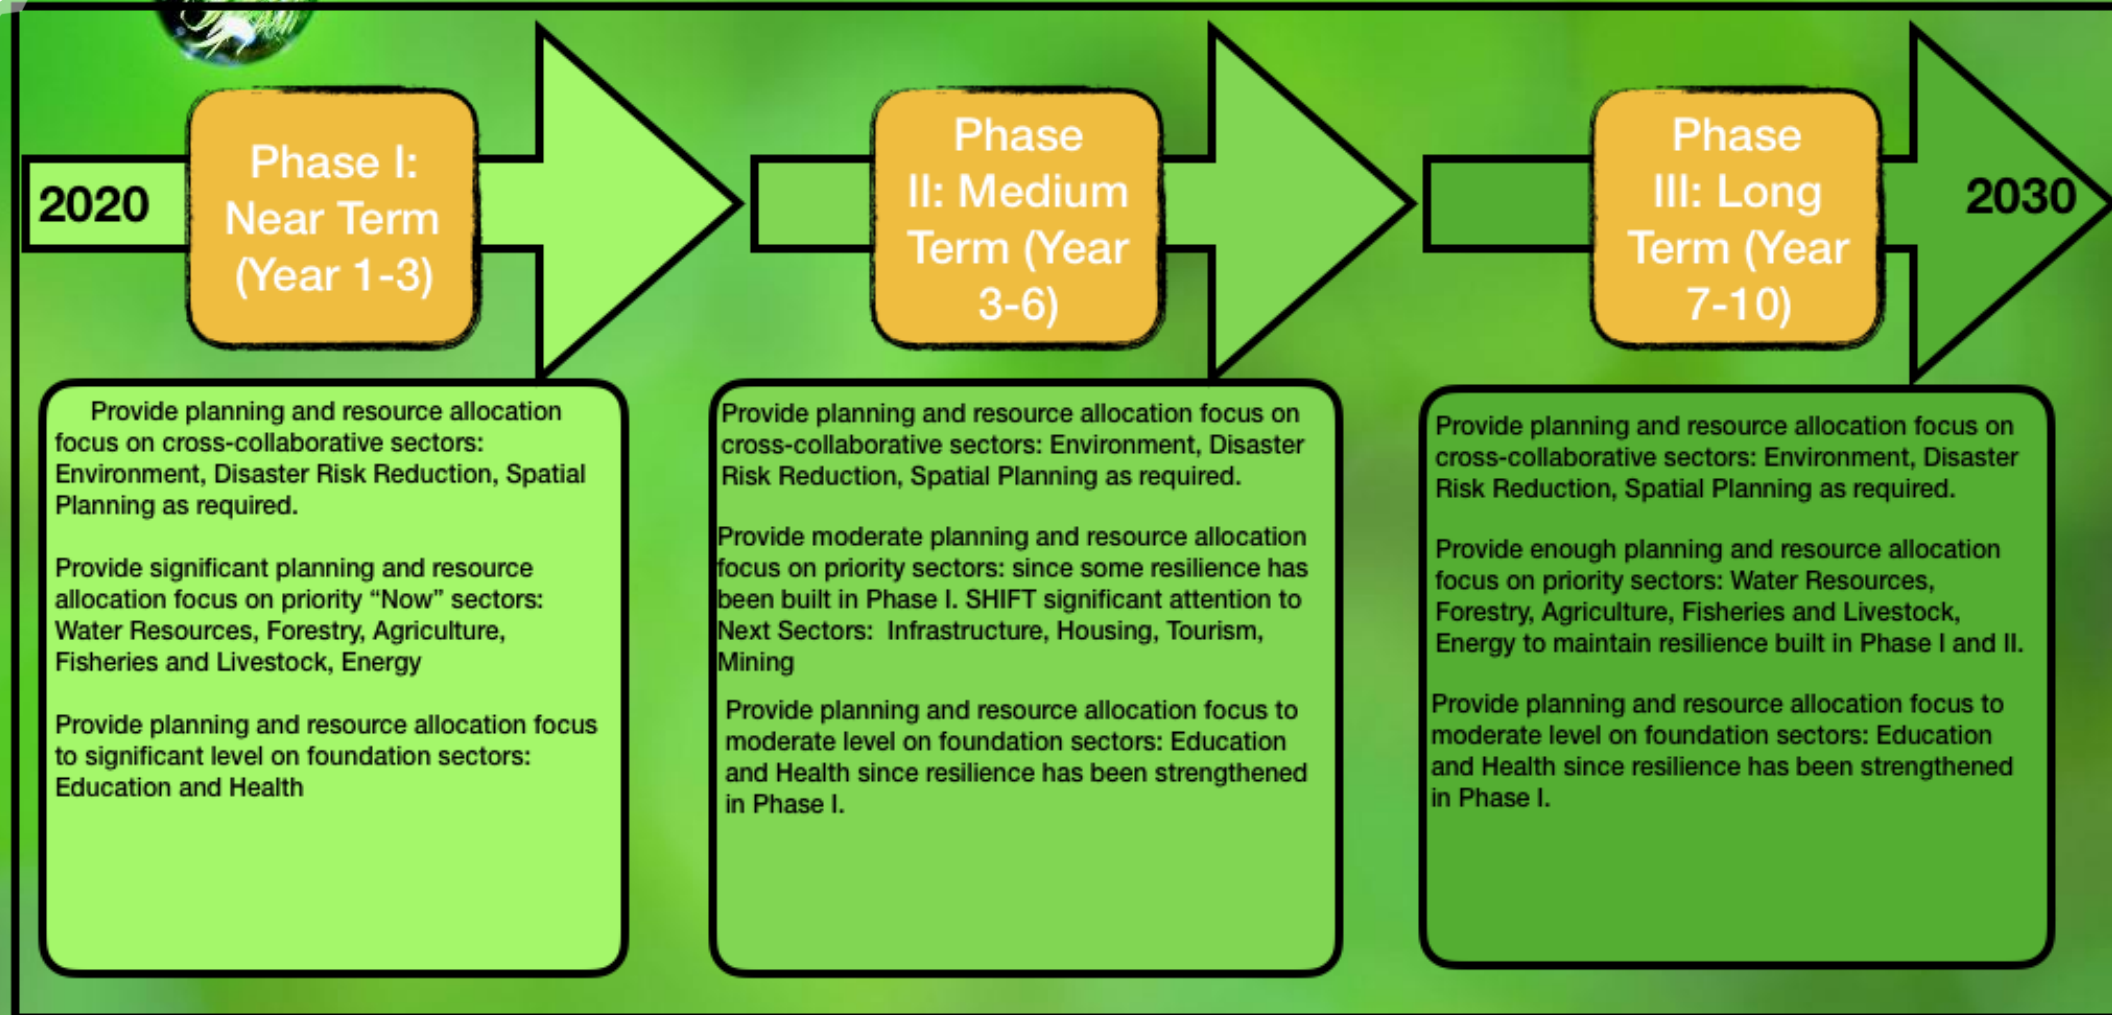

NAP Methodology

- The Strategic Adaptation Priorities to strengthen effort all over for now as in the future
- The economic sectors prioritized based on climate risk and vulnerability (Productive, Cross-sectoral and Cross Foundational sectors)
- Guiding Policy Principles

NAP Sectors

•Roadmap to Action •

Where are we now?

- Suriname's 2nd NDC (2020 – 2030)
- Engender project: gender responsiveness of NAP and focus priority sector is water resources
- NC3 project: VA of the NAP is used as a baseline and a questionnaire was developed to update the information
- The Ministry of Spatial Planning and Environment and the Environment Framework Law

A close-up photograph of a dandelion seed head, also known as a dandelion clock, centered in the upper half of the frame. The seed head is spherical and composed of numerous small, white, feathery seeds radiating from a dark brown, textured center. A thin, light brown stem extends downwards from the base of the seed head. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, suggesting a field of grass or foliage. A semi-transparent horizontal band with a light green gradient runs across the middle of the image, serving as a backdrop for the text.

Thank you