Technology of the Maldives / Director

Aishath Aileen Niyaz serves as Director at the Ministry of Environment, Climate Change and Technology of the Maldives, which is the national focal point for the UNFCCC.

Maldives being a highly vulnerable small island developing state on the frontline experiencing the impacts of climate change, Aileen has been working for several years in the government mobilizing climate finance for adaptation and mitigation, in the context of severe capacity constraints.

She is a member of the Maldivian delegation at UN Climate negotiations as well as the National Designated Authority Focal Point for the Green Climate Fund. Aileen holds a Master of Science in Development Studies from the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London and a Bachelor of Arts in Communication and International Studies from Monash University, Australia.
