

Mr. Polash Mukerjee

Lead, Air Quality and Climate Resilience, NRDC India Programme
He is Delhi based researcher & policy advocacy professional with significant experience in the area of environmental health and air quality management. As the lead for the Natural Resources Defense Council's (NRDC) work on Air Quality and Climate Resilience in India, he works closely with the national as well as several regional and city governments in India on strengthening institutional capacities and building community resilience to climate disasters, including extreme heat. Polash is also recognized as a strategic leader in the field of air quality management in India
Contact details: pmukerjee@nrdc.org || Mobile: +91 9962247005