

Daegyun Oh, Seoul, Republic of Korea Visiting Prof./Dr.

Daegyun Oh is a visiting Professor of Seoul National University. He has bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees on geochemical engineering in Seoul National University. He has been specialized related to climate governance in the sector of demand-side management of energy and new and renewable energy, carbon market, climate related policy & measures since 1994. He has been a member of Korean delegation to UNFCCC process since 2003, was a member/alternate member of Clean Development Mechanism Executive Board between 2015 and 2018. He has been involved in the design of Korea's domestic greenhouse gas management programs and carbon market(K-ETS). He served as a co-convenor of the working group for the establishment of ISO/TS 14067 'Carbon Footprint of Product'. And he has involved in Korea's climate related governing process as a member of Korea's National Committee of Sustainable Development and Central Committee on Environmental Policy.