UNFCCC Archives and History Exhibition

Please visit the first UNFCCC COP Archives and History Exhibition which is open in the Exhibits Area in Area B, section 7, throughout COP 27. At the booth you will have an opportunity to search online for early UNFCCC archives, including browsing through our Intergovernmental Negotiating Committee collection. You will enjoy seeing memorabilia from early COPs; and, from our archives, we will show video clips of historic moments at COP sessions and photographs of delegates at earlier COP sessions.

Dating back to INC in the early 1990s, UNFCCC archives' extensive collections have grown to be a world-leading resource on climate change negotiation processes and the work and legacy of the UNFCCC. The archives comprise physical paper files, audiovisual recordings, photographs and digital born materials. A secretariat project is now underway to preserve these invaluable records and to unlock access and provide our archives at your fingertips through an online portal.

Meet our booth partner, Arts Help, and learn about the largest digital arts publisher which believes art is a vehicle for social change. Help us create our own beautiful, clean, collaborative digital artwork, a clean tree – an NFT created on an eco-friendly blockchain using Proof-of-Stake technology to validate transactions.

Your interest and support will help safeguard the archives of UNFCCC and ensure the availability, accessibility and usability of this dynamic information asset for today's climate change community and for future generations. We look forward to meeting you at the archives exhibition booth. We are open every day from 9.30 – 18.00 hrs. during the COP and you can find us in the Exhibits Area in Area B, section 7.
