

• What key highlights from the conversations in the past two days are relevant to think of for future work on gender and climate change?

30 responses

• In terms of the work programme, what, if anything, should be changed?

Intersectionality

We need an experience sharing hub

SRHR inclusion

inclusion of protection for environmental rights defenders and vulnerable communities

Integration of SRHR and women's health

• In terms of elements is anything missing?

10 year work program to focus on implementation

SRHR is missing as well as youth inclusion in decision making

The need for intersectional approaches focus on climate gender responsive implementation

Intersectionality

The work programme is missing integration of sexual reproductive health and rights, gender based violence and harmful practices despite various NDCs and NAP increasingly highlighting this

Paris agreement, work programmes and GST reference

More focus on the importance of economic justice for women - decent wages, access to up- and re-skilling, access to social protection (including maternity leave), health and safety and labor rights

• In terms of elements is anything missing?

Integration of intersecting issues e.g., sexual reproductive health and rights (SRHR)

Intersection of SRHR and GBV

Maternal health and SRHR, building increasing evidence and on the climate and health declaration

Framework: To provide guidance in Gender Action Plan and Climate Change Implementation and Risk Assessment for National Gender and Climate Change Focal Points

Para 5 and 10: Suggest Parties to include gender-responsive into the national planning

Health linkages, including sexual and reproductive rights

Stronger focus on disaggregating, e.g adolescent girls

A focus on a regional approach - utilizing the regional climate weeks and/or yearly regional exchanges on implementation of gender responsive climate policy at national level
