5. Updating of the ExCom five-year rolling workplan.

9. The indicative implementation time frame of the activities contained in the current five-year rolling workplan ranges from March 2018 to 2021.³ At ExCom 11 (March 2020), the members shared their reflections on the successes, shortcomings, and lessons learned from implementing the five-year rolling workplan. ExCom 12 (October 2021) took note of them for informing ExCom’s deliberations on developing the new activities.
10. Based on the general process agreed at ExCom 14 (September 2021) for updating the ExCom’s rolling workplan, the secretariat prepared, for ExCom 15 (April 2022), compilations of the implementation status of the current workplan and the information on ongoing or planned activities by the expert groups, as well as a template to collect ideas for potential deliverables under the next five-year rolling workplan. ExCom 14 agreed that the process would be informed by the information from external stakeholders, including those represented on the expert group of the ExCom.
11. ExCom 15 further developed the template and established an intersessional group of members to prepare an initial draft five-year rolling workplan, based on the template, to serve as the basis for further development at ExCom 16. Observers, including members of the expert groups of the ExCom, will be encouraged to participate in ExCom 16 to inform the further development of the five-year rolling workplan.

Action:

12. The ExCom will be invited to take note of the outcome of the intersessional work and further develop its rolling workplan to be included in its 2022 annual report.

The ExCom responded to the first one by letter to the Chair of the Subsidiary Body for Technological and Scientific Advice on potential areas of collaboration with a view to initiating long-term strategic engagement with the Nairobi Work Programme.
15. Regarding the second one, which was relating to the new collective quantified goal on climate finance,⁵ the ExCom decided to further consider, at ExCom 16, whether to make a submission. In preparation of its deliberations, the ExCom requested the secretariat to prepare a list of headings of a potential submission to inform its consideration. The ExCom will continue its consideration on this matter under this item.
16. Any other matters arising during the meeting will also be taken up under this item.
