

The Dedicated Grant Mechanism for Indigenous Peoples and Local Communities

Indigenous and local community leadership to achieve climate goals

DGM GLOBAL

THE WORLD BANK
IBRD • IDA

CONSERVATION INTERNATIONAL

www.dgmglobal.org

DGM FUNDING

All amounts in millions USD

DGM Highlights 2021

200,000+ direct project beneficiaries

250+ partner organizations and institutions across 7
countries

12 national steering committees with 230 indigenous peoples and local community leaders

13 projects with US$
75 million in FIP
approved budgets

24% of national steering committee members are women

Gender specific subproject selection criteria in

6 countries

244 Native Communities recognized and registered
In Peru

604 subprojects in 8 countries and many more to come

212,486 hectares of native community lands titled in high threat areas of Peruvian Amazon

Country Projects

Resources and Activities Map

The eight active DGM country projects cultivate, harvest and sustainably source a variety of natural resources through currently implemented or proposed DGM activities. Some of these resources and activities are highlighted below.

Mexico

Peru

Burkina Faso

Brazil

Ghana

Mozambique

DRC

Indonesia

Photos (left to right, top to bottom):
Mexico: Maya women working at La Kootze Muebles. Credit: DGM Mexico.
Peru: Ashaninka woman selecting cocoa. Credit: DGM Peru.
Burkina Faso: Barkinabe Women processing cassava. Credit: DGM Burkina Faso.
Brazil: Production and commercialization of babassu nut byproducts. Credit: DGM Brazil.
Ghana: DGM Ghana project implementers visiting cocoa cultivation. Credit: DGM Ghana.
Indonesia: Wood for traditional Pinaisi boat making in Tana Bera, Indonesia. Credit: DGM Indonesia.
Mozambique: 3rd Regional Africa Exchange Participant Hayford Duodu learning about Sustainable Beekeeping at the M'phingwe Camp lodge in Gatapu, Sofala, Mozambique. Credit: DGM Global/Nathalia Preston.
DRC: DGM DRC beneficiary during training on IP land tenure and policy. Credit: DGM DRC.

2021 DGM Global Fellows

