

2023 SCF Forum: Financing Just Transitions

Information about the resource person

Jeremy Anderson

Director, International Transport
Workers' Federation

Jeremy Anderson is Director of Just Transition and Sustainable Transport at the International Transport Workers' Federation (ITF), which represents 18 million transport workers in 700 trade unions across 153 countries. He leads the ITF Sustainable Transport programme, which develops worker perspectives on sustainable transport and implements just transition plans across the aviation, rail, road, and maritime transport sectors. He represents transport workers in the UNFCCC COP negotiations, focusing on climate finance. He also represents the ITF on the Maritime Just Transition Task Force, the first global tripartite body established on just transition at industry level.

From 2009 to 2022, Jeremy was ITF Head of Strategic Research; informing campaigns to raise labour standards in the aviation, logistics, and maritime sector.

Jeremy holds a PhD in Geography from Queen Mary, University of London.
