

2023 SCF Forum: Financing Just Transitions

Information about the resource person

Liane Schalatek is the associate director of the Washington Office of the Heinrich Böll Stiftung, a German political party foundation, affiliated with the German Green Party, with 33 offices worldwide working on sustainable development, human rights and gender democracy. At the Heinrich Böll Stiftung, Liane spearheads the foundation's work on international climate finance with an emphasis on the transparency and accountability of public climate finance flows and on equitable, human-rights centered and gender-transformative access to climate funding, including via the Green Climate Fund, where she represented civil society concerns to the Board as a civil society organization Active Observer for Developed Countries from 2016-2019, and working with other climate funds. She has more than 20 years of experience in global governance issues, specifically in international development and finance and international climate negotiations, where a particular interest of her work revolved around engendering macroeconomic and finance policy. She holds dual master degrees in political science/political economy and international affairs.

LIANE SCHALATEK

Associate Director, Heinrich Böll
Stiftung Washington DC