

2023 SCF Forum: Financing Just Transitions

Information about the resource person

Makie Yoshida is a Climate Change Specialist at the Office of Climate Change, Biodiversity and Environment at Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations and is focusing on policy coherence between Climate Change Adaptation and Disaster Risk reduction in agrifood systems. Prior to joining to FAO, she also worked in indigenous communities in Bolivia and El Salvador supporting countries' sustainable development at a community and national levels.

She holds a Master of Science in Climate Change, Development and Policy from Institute of Development Studies and University of Sussex.

MAKIE YOSHIDA

Climate Change Specialist, Food and Agriculture Organization