Observer Handbook for SB 62

16-26 June 2025 Bonn, Germany

Is this your first SB session? Are you a seasoned observer?

This UNFCCC Observer Handbook* has been prepared to assist observers attending a UNFCCC session for the first time. It is also useful for seasoned observers as it contains key information to help you follow SB 62. You will find some tips on how to engage effectively and contribute to the UNFCCC process.

> We hope this handbook supports you before and during the session – and we wish you a fruitful and productive conference.

*This observer handbook is a living document and will get updated as needed. Version as of 02 June 2025

CODE OF CONDUCT

The organizations of the United Nations system are committed to hosting events that foster an inclusive, respectful, and safe environment for all. UNFCCC events are guided by the highest ethical and professional standards, and all participants are expected to behave with integrity and respect towards others.

The Code of Conduct applies to all UNFCCC events, including any forum organized, hosted, or sponsored (in whole or in part) by the UNFCCC, regardless of location. It also applies to any event or gathering held on UNFCCC premises, whether or not the UNFCCC is the organizer.

The Code of Conduct applies to all participants of UNFCCC events.

Heads of delegations are responsible for ensuring that their representatives comply with the Code of Conduct.

Possible consequences of infractions are listed in the Code of Conduct, which can be found here.

UNDERSTANDING THE PROCESS UNFCCC Objective

The objective of the UNFCCC is to "stabilize greenhouse gas concentrations in the atmosphere at a level that would prevent dangerous anthropogenic interference with the climate system".

It states that "such a level should be achieved within a time-frame sufficient to allow ecosystems to adapt naturally to climate change, to ensure that food production is not threatened, and to enable economic development to proceed in a sustainable manner."

In pursuit of this objective, the UNFCCC establishes a framework with:

- broad principles,
- general obligation,
- basic institutional arrangements, and
- an intergovernmental process for agreeing to specific actions over time (including through collective decisions by the Conference of the Parties, and as well as other international legal instruments with more specific obligations – such as the Kyoto Protocol and Paris Agreement).

UNDERSTANDING THE PROCESS What are SBs?

The UNFCCC process is governed by three main bodies:

- the COP (Conference of the Parties) for the Convention,
- the CMP (Conference of the Parties serving as the Meeting of the Parties to the Kyoto Protocol), and
- the CMA (Conference of the Parties serving as the Meeting of the Parties to the Paris Agreement).

These governing bodies are supported by their respective Bureaus, as well as the UNFCCC secretariat, which provides organizational and technical coordination.

To support their work, two permanent Subsidiary Bodies (SBs) meet at each session:

- the SBSTA (Subsidiary Body for Scientific and Technological Advice) provides advice on scientific and technological issues related to the Convention, Kyoto Protocol, and Paris Agreement, and cooperates with international organizations on technical matters.
- the SBI (Subsidiary Body for Implementation) reviews and supports the implementation of the agreements, and guides the secretariat's work through biennial programmes.

UNDERSTANDING THE PROCESS Key Outcomes from COP29

Understanding the outcomes of COP29 can provide context for the discussions at SB62:

- New Collective Quantified Goal (NCQG): Parties agreed to set a new climate finance goal of at least USD 300 billion annually by 2035 to support developing countries in their climate actions.
- Operationalization of Article 6: Agreements were reached on the mechanisms for international carbon markets, facilitating cooperation among countries to meet their emission reduction targets.
- Loss and Damage Fund: The fund was fully operationalized to support vulnerable countries facing the adverse effects of climate change.
- Global Goal on Adaptation (GGA): Progress was made towards defining and implementing the GGA to enhance adaptive capacities globally.

UNDERSTANDING THE PROCESS UNFCCC Process Explained

The UN CC:Learn platform offers free, self-paced courses to help observers, delegates, and stakeholders better understand the UNFCCC process and engage effectively in climate action. Here are three key courses to boost your knowledge for SB62:

- 1. Introduction to Climate Change Negotiations: This course provides a clear overview of how international climate negotiations work under the UNFCCC. You will learn about negotiation dynamics, key players, and how decisions are made. This course is perfect for anyone looking to follow or engage in sessions more confidently.
- 2. Mastering International Climate Negotiations All You Need to Know: An interactive, engaging course designed especially for youth and newcomers. It explains the Paris Agreement, negotiation procedures, and how non-Party stakeholders, like NGOs, can make an impact. Includes real-world tips to navigate sessions effectively.
- 3. A Participant Guide to the UN Climate Change Process: This guide dives into the structure of the UNFCCC, explaining how meetings are organized, who does what, and how observers can engage meaningfully. It is a practical tool for understanding the roles, rules, and opportunities within the process.

UNDERSTANDING THE PROCESS Context of Negotiations

Year-long interministerial consultations to develop one national position (x 198 Parties), including SB sessions.

Negotiators come to sessions with instructions from their national governments with little leeway to deviate from.

Contentious issues forwarded to the ministerial consultations (at COPs).

Most of the work happens in the capitals, where the national positions are made.

Observers' intersessional work back home includes: advocacy, campaigns, grassroots efforts, and engagement with local governments and municipal authorities, etc.

ACCESS AND LOGISTICS Registration and Access

For the most up to date information please refer to the Information for COP30 participants. The following list consists of the most frequently asked questions for COP30:

REGISTRATION PROCESS

- Who Can Register: Representatives from Parties to the Convention, observer States, United Nations entities, admitted observer organizations.
- How to Register: All participants must be nominated by their organization's Designated Contact Point (DCP) on the UNFCCC Online Registration System (ORS).
 - Nomination Period: 6 February 12 March 2025
 - Confirmation Period: 27 March 15 June 2025
- Important: Each participant must register with a unique and valid email address.

BADGE COLLECTION

- Location: Registration Desk at the World Conference Center Bonn (WCCB).
- Hours:
 - Pre-sessional (UN Campus): 10–13 June 2025, 8:30–17:30.
 - Conference period (WCCB): 14–26 June 2025, 8:00–17:30 (closed on Sunday, 22 June).

ACCESS AND ATTENDANCE:

- Badge Usage: Badges are personal, non-transferable, and must be worn visibly at all times within the conference premises.
- Lost badges: Badges that are misplaced must be reported immediately.
- Daily Badges for IGOs and NGOs: Organizations have a quota for daily attendance. DCPs can allocate attendance dates to delegates on a daily basis through the ORS.
 - In order to request non-consecutive days for a delegate, DCPs must specify the desired dates via the ORS Communication tab. Further information can be found in the ORS Integrated Daily Badge System Manual.
- Changes Post-Deadline: After 15 June 2025, any changes to delegate attendance dates must be requested via the ORS communication tab by the DCP.
- Multiple registrations (e.g., as both an observer and media representative) are not permitted.
- It is prohibited to trade or sell your registration to attend a UNFCCC session, meeting or workshop, including SBs.

VIRTUAL PARTICIPATION:

- The ORS now offers a Virtual-only registration option for SB 62.
- Virtual-only registration is open until 15 June 2025, 23:59 CEST.
- Registered virtual delegates can access the UNFCCC online platform for the full session period.
- Online access is limited to main negotiating rooms; side events and other rooms are not accessible virtually.
- Delegates registered for onsite participation at SB 62 through their National Focal Point or
- ¹⁴ Designated Contact Point will be able to participate both in person and via the virtual platform.

QUOTAS FOR OBSERVERS

The demand for observer badges for SB 62 has reached approximately 12,500 from 1,200 organizations, while the allocation is capped at 2,000. This represents a significant gap between demand and availability, reflecting space and security constraints at the SB 62 venue. For comparison, COP 20 received 11,824 observer badge requests and issued 3,500 badges. At the same time, the number of organizations registering for the subsidiary body sessions has been steadily increasing. SB 58 hosted 649 registered observer organizations, and SB 60 saw 783. For SB 62, around 1,200 organizations have registered – nearly double the number from SB 58 – highlighting the continued growth of observer engagement in the process.

TRANSPARENCY UPDATE:

To enhance transparency, the UNFCCC has updated the registration process with the following changes:

- The List of Participants (LoP) that is made public traditionally now contains all badge types, including Party Overflow, UN Overflow, Host Country Guest, Global Climate Action, Media, Courtesy and Temporary Pass badges.
- As of COP 28, delegates will be asked to include the affiliation and relationship that the nominee holds to the respective nominating entities.
- Home organization/affiliation that had been optional is now mandatory.
- Information published on the LoP is now made available in a csv. format for enhanced searchability and review.

Further information can be found here.

CODE OF CONDUCT

UN meetings operate on the principles of openness, transparency and inclusiveness, to create an enabling environment for the participation of a diversity of voices and interests. To ensure that Parties can conduct their work and a diverse range of stakeholders can participate in the process effectively, participants are expected to adhere to a number of rules as set out below.

- Code of Conduct to address harassment at UNFCCC conferences, meetings and events
- Reporting a complaint within the code of conduct
- Guidelines for the participation of representatives of non-governmental organizations at meetings of the bodies of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change
- Use of cameras and audio/video recording devices by participants at sessions of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and other meetings and workshops
- UN Security guidelines related to media actions, distribution of publicity materials, and use of UN emblem at the UNFCCC conferences
- UN Administrative instruction on Authority of United Nations security officers

Further information can be found here.

CODE OF CONDUCT

Please see below specific Code of Conduct topics to be aware of:

- Badges are strictly personal and non-transferable. Lost or discarded badges may be misused.
- Always wear your badge visibly and comply with identity checks by UN staff.
- The minimum age for participation is 16.
- Do not block movement or access for other participants.
- Follow instructions from the secretariat and UN Security at all times.
- Distribution of materials is only allowed in designated areas.
- Use of the UNFCCC logo requires prior written approval.
- The use of Party flags is prohibited in advocacy actions.
- No naming of countries, organizations, or individuals is permitted.
- UNFCCC participation is free of charge. Selling badges or charging fees is strictly prohibited.

OBSERVER ROLES Who are Observers?

UNFCCC PARTICIPANTS

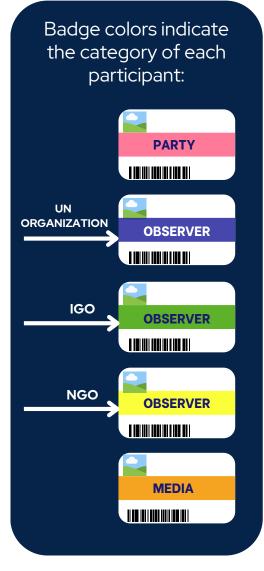

UNFCCC Sessions are not open to the public. All participants must be accredited. There are three categories of participants in the UNFCCC process:

- Representatives of Parties to the Convention and Observer States,
- Representatives of observer organizations,
- Members of the press and media.

OBSERVER ORGANIZATIONS are further categorized into three types:

- the United Nations System and its Specialized Agencies,
- intergovernmental organizations (IGOs),
- and non-governmental organizations (NGOs).

Once admitted, IGOs and NGOs can register delegates through the Online Registration System. Information on how to receive observer status can be found here.

OBSERVER ROLES NGO Constituencies & Coordination

The majority of admitted NGOs in the UNFCCC process are self-organized into constituencies – loose groupings based on shared interests. These constituencies correspond to the nine Major Groups from Agenda 21 and reaffirmed in the Rio+20 outcome document "The Future We Want". Each constituency is represented by a Constituency Focal Point (CFP), who facilitates communication with the UNFCCC secretariat. Contact details for CFPs can be found here.

Business and Industry NGOs (BINGO)	Environmental NGOs (ENGO)	Farmers	In addition to the nine NGO constituencies, the secretariat
Indigenous Peoples Organizations (IPO)	Local Government and Municipal Authorities (LGMA)	Research and Independent NGOs (RINGO)	 recognizes informal groups of admitted observer organizations focused on specific themes, such as: Faith-Based Organizations, Parliamentarians, Education and Communications
Trade Union NGOs (TUNGO)	Women and gender Constituency (WGC)	Children and Youth NGOs (YOUNGO)	NGOs. The list of Focal Points is available here .

OBSERVER ROLES Business and Industry NGOs (BINGO)

Description: The Business and Industry Constituency (BINGO) represents businesses of all sizes, sectors and geographies in the UNFCCC negotiation process. The International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) has served as the Focal Point for the BINGO Constituency since the early 90s, coordinating business participation in the process and working with its global network and wide range of partners to ensure that climate policy frameworks are implemented in a way that works for and with business, and through policies that recognise their defining role in tackling climate change. ICC is deeply committed to the objectives of the Paris Agreement and has been mobilising business behind the goal of limiting global warming to 1.5 degrees Celsius and achieving net zero emissions by 2050.

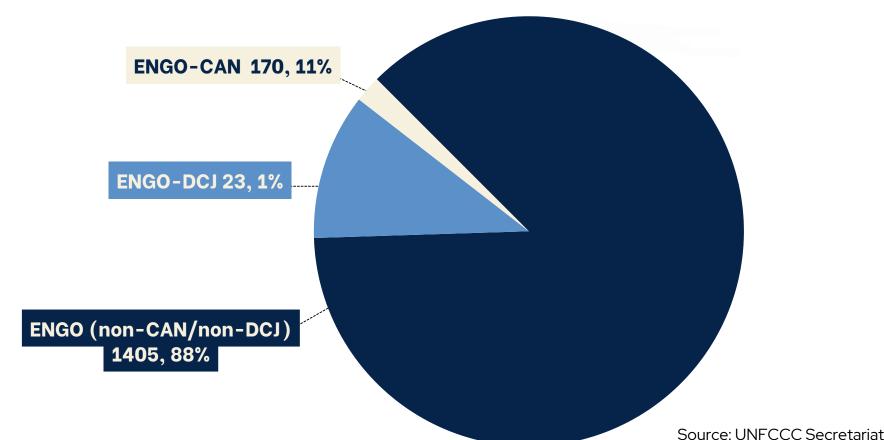

Role: Offering a platform for the private sector to provide technical expertise and real economy insights to the UNFCCC negotiations and exchange with governments and other civil society groups on opportunities and challenges related to the Convention and its Paris Agreement.

Contacts: Ms. Sophie Talarico sophie.talarico@iccwbo.org, Ms. Raelene Martin Raelene.martin@iccwbo.org

OBSERVER ROLES Environmental NGOS (ENGO)

ENGO, the largest Constituency has been represented by two networks within – Climate Action Network (CAN) and Demand Climate Justice (DCJ). However, the majority of ENGO members are not covered by the two networks, as shown below.

ENGO Constituency Breakdown

OBSERVER ROLES ENGO-CAN

Description: Climate Action Network (CAN) as ENGO constituency represents and is a global network of more than 1,900 civil society organisations in over 130 countries driving collective and sustainable action to fight the climate crisis and achieve social justice. CAN convenes and coordinates civil society working on climate at the UN climate talks and other international fora.

Role: Provide a platform for civil society organisations working on the issue of climate justice and human rights to represent and make their voices heard within the UNFCCC process

Contact: Jana Merkelbach, jmerkelbach@climatenetwork.org Pooja Dave, pdave@climatenetwork.org

OBSERVER ROLES ENGO-DCJ

Description: The Global Campaign to Demand Climate Justice (DCJ) is a global network of over 200 grassroots, national, regional and international human rights and climate justice organisations fighting together for climate justice and systems change. We are a global network grounded in the realities, challenges and struggles of the Global South and ensuring these voices are heard front and center in the global arenas. Unlike other climate movements, our positions come from and reflect the realities of the peoples and communities who are most impacted by the climate crisis, and we aim to influence the global narratives and bring substantial change to global climate policies that have a direct impact on the Global South. The Global South movement has fought very hard and for a very long time to decolonise the climate movement, and DCJ is a central leader in that. Together, we have reframed climate action to climate justice – with justice being at the forefront of a decarbonised and sustainable planet for everyone, not just privileged communities.

Role: DCJ provides a critical platform for the peoples and communities who are least responsible for the ongoing climate crisis but are most impacted by it to present their positions, lived experiences, and demands in the global climate policy spaces and the climate negotiations. DCJ is also a campaign vehicle for the groups from the global south to collectively campaign and advocate for their rights and demands both within and outside the UNFCCC.

OBSERVER ROLES Farmers

Description: The Farmers' Constituency represents farmers in all their diversity producing food, fibre, fuel, and other ecosystem services for the global population whilst making a key contribution to the worldwide climate effort. It welcomes crop and livestock farmers, horticultural growers, pastoralists, ranchers, foresters and aqua-culturists; women, youth, and indigenous farmers; farmer organisations and co-operatives, family farmers and businesses, farm workers, landowners, and tenants; as well as agricultural and other NGOs supporting farmers on the ground.

Role: The Constituency provides the platform for observer organisations working to ensure that farmers' voices are heard in the UNFCCC process and that farmers' knowledge and priorities are integrated into relevant decisions, so that the potential of the sector for adaptation and mitigation is realised whilst minimizing and addressing loss and damage in agriculture.

Contacts: Ceris Jones, ceris.jones@wfo-oma.org; Francesco Brusaporco, francesco.brusaporco@wfo-oma.org

OBSERVER ROLES Indigenous Peoples Organizations (IPO)

Description: The Indigenous Peoples Constituency, also known as the International Indigenous Peoples Forum on Climate Change, is the only rights-bearing constituency within the UNFCCC, representing Indigenous Peoples, and their Nations, from seven UN sociocultural regions: Africa, the Arctic, Asia, Central and South America and the Caribbean, Eastern Europe and the Russian Federation, Central Asia and Transcaucasia, North America, and the Pacific. With over 450 million Indigenous Peoples, the IIPFCC advocates for the voices and contributions of Indigenous Peoples to guide climate negotiations, as well as for spaces to directly share their solutions for transformative climate action.

Role: The Indigenous Caucus supporting the coordination of Indigenous Peoples, and their organizations, attending the UNFCCC to discuss priorities, negotiate items and hold side events in a culturally safe space.

Contacts: Eileen Mairena Cunningham (eileen.mairena@gmail.com) Susanna Israelsson (susanna.israelsson@saamicouncil.net)

OBSERVER ROLES Local Governments and Municipal Authorities (LGMA)

Description: The Local Governments and Municipal Authorities (LGMA) Constituency is the voice of towns, cities, regions and all types of local and other subnational governments at the UNFCCC process since 1995.

Role: The LGMA contributes to the UNFCCC negotiations through year-round written, verbal, in-person and virtual submissions and negotiation sessions, engages in setting and the delivery of the action agenda with High Level Champions, engages in the development of the calendar and initiatives of the COP Presidencies, and collaborates with the UNFCC Friends of Multilevel Action in the drafting and adopting of COP decisions.

Services: website, mailing list, monthly webinars, monthly webinars, WhatsApp Group, Multilevel Action and Urbanization Pavilions at COP Blue Zones

Contacts: www.cities-and-regions.org lgma@iclei.org

Focal point: Mr. Yunus Arikan, Director of Global Advocacy, ICLEI – Local Governments for Sustainability, yunus.arikan@iclei.org

OBSERVER ROLES Research and Independent NGOS (RINGO)

Description: The RINGO constituency was formed to represent officially admitted observer organizations of the UNFCCC negotiations process that are engaged in research, teaching, and other knowledge, practice, or theory-based activities relating to any aspect of climate change. RINGO also promotes effective research-based outreach and capacity building relating to climate change for all stakeholders and supports access to and transparency of the international climate negotiation process.

Role: RINGO facilitates engagement of members in the UNFCCC process through engagement at COPs, SBs, Constituted Body, Work Programme and other meetings. The RINGO constituency was created with the understanding that it would not, as a constituency, advocate for any particular outcomes within the negotiations. RINGO does ask parties to ground their discussions and decisions in sound science, encompassing various disciplinary approaches. Individual RINGO members represent a wide range of views on many subjects and can advocate in their individual capacities. The RINGO constituency welcomes the diverse views, expertise, and experience of its members.

OBSERVER ROLES Trade Union NGOS (TUNGO)

Description: Trade Union NGO (TUNGO) is the observer grouping representing workers and trade unions and is coordinated by the International Trade Union Confederation (ITUC). The ITUC is the global voice of the world's working people. Its mission is the promotion and defence of workers' rights and interests. A labour focused just transition must secure the future and livelihoods of workers and their communities during the transition to a low-carbon economy, effectively limiting global temperature rises to 1.5 °C. The ITUC represents 200 million workers in 167 countries and territories and has 337 national affiliates.

Role: TUNGO provides a platform for the coordination of positions and the participation of workers and trade unions at the UNFCCC negotiations.

Contacts: The focal point for TUNGO is Bert De Wel, bert.DeWel@ituc-csi.org

OBSERVER ROLES Women and Gender Constituency (WGC)

Description: The Women and Gender Constituency (WGC) is one of the nine stakeholder groups of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). Established in 2009, the WGC now consists of 54 women's and environmental civil society organizations, who are working to ensure that women's voices and their rights are embedded in all processes and results of the UNFCCC framework, for a sustainable and just future, so that gender equality and women's human rights are central to the ongoing discussions.

Role: Our goal is to formalize the voice of the women's and gender civil society organizations present and regularly active in UNFCCC processes, and to develop, streamline and advocate common positions. The Constituency aims to bring together as many NGO observers accredited to the UNFCCC as possible to work democratically towards achieving its goals. The Constituency works to ensure that human rights and gender equality are firmly anchored in all climate actions under the UNFCCC and to challenge the extractive, exploitative and patriarchal economic model which has resulted in the climate crisis.

Services: The WGC does not render any services, however, provides a space for engagement around developing common positions in pursuit of collective advocacy for gender just climate action; capacity building and movement strengthening.

Contacts: The Focal Points (focalpoints@womengenderclimate.org) for WGC are:

- Mwanahamisi Singano, mwanahamisi@wedo.org
- Gina Cortés Valderrama, gina.cortesv@gmail.com

OBSERVER ROLES Children and Youth NGOS (YOUNGO)

Description: YOUNGO is the official children and youth constituency of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). YOUNGO is a vibrant, global network of children and youth activists (up to 35 years) as well as child and youth NGOs, who contribute to shaping the intergovernmental climate change policies and strive to empower children and youth to formally bring their voices to the UNFCCC processes. In 2009, the UNFCCC Secretariat extended provisional constituency status to admitted youth NGOs, which was confirmed in 2011. YOUNGO's vision is to empower children and youth to take action and works to enhance their skills and capacity to drive the necessary and ambitious climate actions and policies at all levels towards a lovable climate just future.

Role: YOUNGO representatives make official statements, provide technical and policy inputs to negotiations and engage with decision-makers at the UN climate change conferences, and promote child and youth participation in climate change projects at local and national levels. YOUNGO consists of thematic WGs focusing on policy work, and operational teams working on organising conferences each year on the local, regional and global level (known as LCOYs, RCOYs, and COY), along with capacity building and other mechanisms of engagement for young people around the world, including through projects coordinated by the 200+ admitted member NGOs. During UNFCCC sessions, YOUNGO provides a platform for young people to mobilise and organise their advocacy collectively. Each year, YOUNGO produces the Global Youth Statement, which compiles insights, expectations and policy proposals from children and youth organisations, as well as individuals and institutions across the globe.

ENGAGING IN THE PROCESS Negotiations Meeting Rooms & Seating

MEETING ROOM ACCESS

- If rooms are full, Parties have priority. A ticketing process may be used for observers, if necessary.
- If a meeting organized by observers is scheduled immediately after a Party meeting that runs over, please contact the Meeting Room Assignment (MRA) counter and they will assist.
- Rooms may be reassigned at short notice for urgent negotiations.

SEATING ARRANGEMENTS

- Party representatives must have a seat at the table.
- Observers sit in the back rows. If speaking, please find an available mic seat.
- Occasional exceptions may allow observers at the table after all Parties are seated, depending on co-facilitators and agenda.

ENGAGING IN THE PROCESS Interventions in Negotiations

Observers are often invited by the Presiding Officers to make interventions at the opening and closing plenaries – time permitting. Sometimes, co-chairs of CGs might invite observers to make interventions at the end of the CGs, if time and Parties allow.

If your constituency wishes to speak on a particular agenda item, approach the secretariat support team present in the room at the beginning of the CG / IC, and they will ask the Co-Facilitators to explore the possibility.

If the Co-Facilitators ask the Parties and no objection is raised, and only if time remains after all Parties have spoken, observers will be given the floor. In this case representatives of the nine NGO constituencies have the priority, followed by other observers.

Parties are increasingly open to hearing observer interventions in CGs and ICs.

ENGAGING IN THE PROCESS Side Events

Organized by observer organizations, Parties partnering with observers, side events are popular modes of observer engagement at SBs.

At SB62, over 120 joint side events are selected from over 500 applications, particularly those proposals by developing country observers. Side events will be held in rooms Bonn, Berlin, and Kaminzimmer and will be running every day (Monday 16 June - Thursday 26 June, except Sunday 22 June, the rest day!).

They cover the following topics:

40

- Mitigation, including response measures
- Adaptation, including loss and damage
- Means of Implementation and support
- Integrated and holistic approaches
- Other topics related to the UNFCCC process.

Did you know?

The SBI recognized side events as an essential part of the UNFCCC process and an important tool for engaging observers in knowledgesharing, networking and the exploring of actionable options for meeting the climate challenge. (FCCC/SBI/2014/8, paragraph 224).

ENGAGING IN THE PROCESS Advocacy Actions

Advocacy actions are peaceful, creative demonstrations (e.g. visual displays, performances, protests) organized by observers to raise awareness and amplify messages.

The UNFCCC secretariat, in collaboration with the UN Department of Safety and Security (UNDSS), is committed to facilitating these impactful actions. While advocacy activities are generally not permitted within UN premises, this unique practice under the UNFCCC is possible thanks to a longstanding relationship of mutual trust and collaboration among observer organizations, UNDSS, and the secretariat.

To request organizing an action, submit the application form by 10:00 local time the day before your requested action. (E.g. for Tuesday, 17 June, the deadline is Monday, 16 June at 10:00.)

UNDSS and secretariat staff must be present to ensure safety. Please do not begin your action before UNDSS and secretariat staff arrive.

Actions outside the Blue Zone fall under the host country's jurisdiction.

Further information can be found in the Observers' Guide to Advocacy Actions here.

ENGAGING BEYOND SBs

There are many ways to engage in UNFCCC processes after SB62:

Make written submissions on agenda items where Parties have requested observer inputs. You can find the submission portal here.

Follow meetings of the Constituted Bodies for in-depth discussions and to better understand Parties' positions on key issues.

Prepare concrete bridging proposals that reflect ongoing discussions and help address sticking points. Share them with Parties during bilateral meetings.

Collaborate with other groups rather than working in isolation.

FAQs

Badges and Quota

- Why is my organization's badge quota lower this year?
 - Badge quotas are determined by venue capacity and the overall number of registrations. The secretariat strives to ensure fair access, especially for those most impacted by climate change. For further information, please see here.
- Is there an appeals process for badge quotas?
 - Yes, you can submit quota increase requests on the ORS through your Designated Contact Point (DCP). Approvals depend on capacity.
- Can badges be transferred daily?
 - Yes, but only within the rules set by the daily badge system. Badges are personal but may be allocated on a daily basis by your DCP. For further information, please see here.

Visas & Access

- How does the UNFCCC support visa applications?
 - The secretariat provides support letters upon request but cannot influence national visa decisions. For assistance, contact visas@unfccc.int.
- Is the UNFCCC in dialogue with the German Foreign Office on visas?
 - Yes, ongoing discussions aim to facilitate smoother visa processes, especially for participants from the Global South and conflict-affected regions.
- Are any supporting documents for visa applications available?
 - Accredited participants can request official documentation to accompany their visa
 - applications. For assistance, contact visas@unfccc.int.

FAQs

Venue & Facilities

- How can meeting or working rooms be reserved?
 - Please see here for information on booking meeting rooms.
- How can I get to the venue?
 - Information on transportation around Bonn can be found here.
- Will the catering be 100% plant-based?
 - While the catering will not be fully plant-based, there is a strong commitment to offering a wide range of plant-based options to reduce the carbon footprint. The secretariat continues to engage with catering providers to improve sustainable food choices.
- Is catering free or charged?
 - Catering is paid. Complimentary items may occasionally be offered, but most food and beverages are available for purchase.

Agenda & Scheduling

45

- When will the agenda and side event schedule be published?
 - The provisional agenda and side event listings will be shared a few weeks before SB62. Daily programmes will be available each morning during the session.
 - The provisional agenda is available here.
 - The side events schedule is available here.
- Is there a ticketing system this year?
 - $\circ~$ No general ticketing system is not planned, but access to high-demand meetings may be
- managed depending on room capacity

FAQs

Engagement and Participation

- How can I participate in meetings and events?
 - Attend townhalls with high-level representatives (announced in the Daily Programme).
 - Join your constituency's coordination meetings (contact your Constituency Focal Point).
 - Present in side events if you are part of an accepted event.
 - Request to speak in negotiations via your Constituency Focal Point (time permitting).
 - Arrange bilateral meetings directly with Party delegates.
- Where can I find daily schedules and updates?
 - Check the Daily Programme each morning and follow CCTV screens for live updates on meetings, side events, and townhalls. Further information can be found here.
- Can I attend meetings of other constituencies?
 - Generally no, but some may allow guests; ask the relevant Focal Point.
- Are observers allowed in informal consultations (ICs)?
 - Often, but access depends on the Chair and Parties. Check the Daily Programme, and note ICs can close without notice.
- Can I distribute flyers or materials at the venue?

46

- Only in designated areas like side events or during authorized advocacy actions, in line with venue rules and the Code of Conduct.
- Can I join a side event as a participant if I am not an organizer?
 - Yes, most side events are open to all accredited participants unless otherwise specified.
- Will side events be streamed? Can online speakers participate?
 - not streamed by the secretariat due to budget constraints. Side event organizers may arrange virtual participation and streaming independently.
