III. Clustering types of climate finance definitions in use

6. This section will provide a clustering by key issue areas and decision points in applying a definition of climate finance, including by:
 - (a) Understanding the purpose of applying the definition (including international or national contexts)
 - (b) Scoping the key actors and stakeholders involved in applying the definition, their needs and objectives
 - (c) Thematic scope under the definition, sectoral and activity level classifications
 - (d) Decision points involved in the accounting framework under the definition (including geographic scope, recipients, objective, causality, instruments etc.)

IV. Possible update to the SCF's operational definition of climate finance
