

Reverse brainstorming modality

The idea behind the reversal brainstorming methodology is to, instead of generating ideas on how to solve a problem, generate ideas on how to worsen or exacerbate the problem. It encourages participants to think outside the box and consider potential obstacles and challenges. It can help to identify potential solutions and strategies that may not have been considered otherwise.