

SBSTA plan for 2021: Initial set of informal activities by the SBSTA Chair

Version of 21 April 2021

Times shown below are in Central European Summer Time (CEST).

The plan currently proposes activities up to June and is being developed in an iterative manner with built in flexibility for adjustments as lessons are learned and as circumstances change regarding COVID-19 regulations and travel restrictions imposed by governments. The current plan is therefore not a comprehensive list of all matters to be addressed. New topics and activities will continue to be included as the plan is updated.

Proposed activities of the SBSTA until June 2021

Article 6 of the Paris Agreement

(These activities will be conducted in collaboration with the Presidencies)

Submissions: The SBSTA Chair would encourage Parties and admitted observer organizations to make submissions on the upcoming topics of the informal technical expert dialogues.

Matters relating to methodological issues under the Paris Agreement (Transparency)

(These activities will be conducted in collaboration with the Presidencies)

Submissions: The SBSTA Chair would encourage Parties and admitted observer organizations to make further submissions via the submission portal, by 7 April 2021, on their further views on:

- The common reporting tables for the electronic reporting of the information in the national inventory reports, including examples and options for the formats and contents of tables, in particular background and sector tables, and options for implementation of flexibility;
- The structured summary, including examples to demonstrate how the proposed format could encompass different types of indicators (both quantitative and qualitative) and facilitate tracking of progress;

¹ Other Article 6 Paris Agreement topics to be covered during 2021 (third quarter) include implementing overall mitigation in global emissions in the 6.4 mechanism, use of Kyoto Protocol units towards NDCs, reporting and accounting for GHG and non GHG in 6.2. Submissions on these topics will be encouraged in due course

- The common tabular formats on financial, technology development and transfer and capacity-building support, including examples and options for the summary tables, the structure and content of the tables, and how to improve comparability and ensure consistency across specific tables.

Informal technical workshop, in May 2021 (To facilitate the discussion at the workshop, the SBSTA Chair will provide in advance an information note/notes with background information and synthesis of submissions, agenda and guiding questions):
