

First Technical Expert Dialogue under the Ad hoc Work Programme on the New Collective Quantified Goal

Information about the resource persons

Credit: Photo by Sonia Dunlop

Sonia Dunlop
Third Generation
Environmentalism (E3G) /
Programme Lead for Public
Banks and MDBs

Sonia Dunlop is Programme Lead for Public Banks and MDBs at E3G (Third Generation Environmentalism), a global climate change think tank. She leads E3G's work and research on international financial institutions, bilateral Development Finance Institutions, Multilateral Development Banks and national and sub-national public banks.

In 2021 she was seconded to the COP26 Unit in the UK government for a year to work on MDBs and DFIs. Prior to joining E3G, Sonia spent five years in the solar PV industry working for the EU solar PV industry association Solar Power Europe and the UK's Solar Trade Association. During her time at Solar Power Europe she worked on financing and the corporate sourcing of renewables. Sonia previously worked in the European Parliament in Brussels on EU renewable energy policy. Sonia speaks English, French, Italian and Dutch fluently and is based in London.