

Technical Dialogue of the first GST

United Nations
Framework Convention on Climate Change

Global Stocktake (GST)

Opening plenary

The third meeting of the technical dialogue of the first global stocktake under the Paris Agreement (TD1.3)

Farhan Akhtar and Harald Winkler, co-facilitators of TD of GST1

06.06.2023

Introduction

- We are launching the third and last TD session of the GST1
- The depth and breadth of the inputs so far have been very encouraging: very rich basis upon which to build, including numerous written submissions by Parties and non-Party stakeholders
- We are grateful for the constructive and creative engagement by all
- “Learning by doing” has proven a successful approach that enabled the dialogue

Arc of discussions from TD1.1 to 1.3

June 2022 TD1.1: Good interactive exchanges, many written submissions; laid information base, incl. on well-known gaps and discussions on what is being done. We know we are not on track on climate action

November 2022 TD1.2: Detailed discussions on how to bridge gaps; how to shift focus to implementation

March 2023: Summary report following TD1.2

June 2023 TD1.3: Discussion on emerging messages and remaining issues: What is next? What messages are you taking home from the GST? Focus on steps to accelerate collective progress and more effective implementation of actions and support

Early September 2023: TD synthesis report captures key findings based on TD1 and drawing on inputs; separate summary report containing TD1.3 proceedings

TD aim: Lay a strong technical basis

- We can only do that together, in this Party-driven process, with participation by non-Party stakeholders
- We have gone broad and deep. We have made a good way into laying the technical basis – based on discussions at TD1.1-1.2 and very large volume of inputs.
- Our aim in this last meeting of TD is to strengthen technical basis further
- IPCC presented best available science in AR6 Synthesis Report.

- TD synthesis report (TD SYR) and summary reports to be published in early September
- These will be inputs to the third component of the GST: Consideration of Outputs, which will discuss implications of findings of the TD

Co-facilitators' reflections in Summary Report 2

- Summary report following TD1.2 published on 31 March 2023
https://unfccc.int/sites/default/files/resource/GST.TD_2023.SummaryReport2_31March2023.pdf
 - 20 pages of reflections by co-facilitators (in section II)
 - In four clusters, total of 16 emerging messages, which draw on discussions at TD1.1 and 1.2 – they are not final – we are seeking feedback at this session.
- The GST is a process to enable more collective action; that is, we assess collective progress, in the light of equity and the best available science, to inform greater levels of ambition.
- The technical dialogue of the first GST is the first opportunity for Parties to take stock of collective progress
- There has been significant, yet inadequate collective progress towards achieving the purpose of the Paris Agreement and its long-term goals since it was adopted in 2015.
- Consider what more we can do together, and what each of us needs to do.

Formats for discussions at TD1.3

- Opening plenary, for statements by Parties and NPS, and introducing organization of work
- World Café, focus on topics and contexts not yet covered, in an interactive mode
- Four Roundtables, focusing on ‘what is next?’ in each of the four clusters, and what are important emerging messages for you
- Closing plenary, final opportunity for participants to summarize and react to discussions at TD1.3

During lunch-time: Poster session on inputs to GST TD, and informational demonstration and feedback session on search interface of the GST information portal

Draft schedule for TD 1.3

15-18

- No overlapping discussions.
- With your cooperation, we hope to keep to this schedule. We have much to cover, and we must take advantage of time we have.
- Please continue to monitor the live feed and daily programme for any changes.

- Continue to employ World Café to undertake interactive discussions
- Focused set of issues for TD1.3 World Café
 - How messages that are global and collective might inform implementation in different contexts
 - Issues that have not yet had sufficient time
- Expert and facilitator at each station (<https://unfccc.int/event/gst-td-world-cafe>)
- Outputs will be captured by note-takers
- Parties and NPS take thinking from brainstorming into the Round-Tables (more structured, comprehensive)

Roundtables

- RT1: Mitigation, including response measures
- RT2: Adaptation, including loss and damage
- RT3: Means of implementation and support: Finance, technology and capacity-building
- RT4: Integrated and holistic approaches (intersecting across the above)

Roundtables

- Starting point: TD1.2 emerging messages
- CFs will invite participants to:
 - continue to share your views on issues,
 - note any missing issues and/or nuances in messages and supporting text,
 - provide feedback on how to strengthen findings
- Across the four RTs, aim is to cover all elements of paragraph 6(a) of decision 19/CMA.1 – comprehensive and balanced
- Parties and invited non-party stakeholders will receive secondary badges.
- All roundtables will be in Chamber Hall. Badge holders should sit in inner ring.
- Pick up badges from secretariat after opening plenary.

Possible tools to enable Parties and NPS to find useful information in GST information portal

- Very large volume of information in GST information portal – 170,000 pages (increased after last round of submissions, IPCC SYR, etc)
- Technical Annex and search interface are two possible tools to make the large volume of information more accessible and useful
 - a) Technical Annex – proposed in submissions by NPS, several Parties and groups supporting, others less sure
 - b) Search interface – opportunity to explore in during lunch-hour – Thursday 8 June (Nairobi) – and preview at <http://gst1.org>
- Entirely voluntary, not prescribing any policy or measure, no individual Party focus (i.e. respecting paragraph 14 of decision 19/CMA1.)

Closing plenary

- We will have remarks by the SB Chairs and our initial summaries of discussions at TD1.3
- Open the floor for comments by Groups, Parties and NPS – succinct verbal inputs, with opportunity to submit written statements

Norms of Discussion

- The dialogue should advance knowledge that can inform Parties and NPS in enhancing their actions and support
- Discussions should be technical, focused on data and information, and based on the best available science
- Participants are encouraged to engage in a conversation and dialogue with one another, rather than provide prepared statements
- Throughout the technical dialogue, all knowledge and experiences should be respected as contributions to the discussion, in order to promote cooperation and build trust
- This list is to be discussed at the start of each roundtable discussion to see if any norms need to be amended or added

Discussion

- Floor is open for interventions by groups of Parties, Partis and NPS
- To hear everyone
 - a) 3 min for groups
 - b) 2 min for individual Parties
 - c) 2 min for NPS
- Add to what has been said, no need to repeat
- Written statements welcome – and can be longer – please email to gst@unfccc.int
