

Where should this dialogue go next?

Pre-COP

Kwaghdoo Sussan Agber

For future dialogues, it would be useful to hear more voices from the practitioner perspective into the dialogue. Hearing from development finance institutions, implementing agencies, national entities

Jennifer

Pre cop and Cop 31

Laura

Explore civil society mechanism and see how this can be leverage

Diego de leon

National I chapters

Eileen

The conversation needs to continue between the UNFCCC Focal Point, NGCCFP and the funding mechanism institutions to unpack clear modalities for funding gender responsiveness initiatives

Aina Maria Iteta

ensure that all of this is grounded in the collective rights of Indigenous peoples including self determination, territorial rights, and FPIC.

S

To practical entry points for gender in the funds at Party level

Yvonne Ndanu

Where should this dialogue go next?

The Dialogue shd go to regional workshops to allow scaling down impacts and resource mobilization

Najjuko Caroline

Link with national documents

Sumeyra

it would be useful to explore the integration of gender considerations into domestic public finance systems, mobilising private finance, and addressing barriers at local level.

Jennifer

NGCCFP team

Laura

Maybe organize a "Fair" with Funds in which there is a format to match proposals from countries and programs that can be supported by Funds. And afterwards carey out a follow up with detailed advise.

Emilia

Dissagregation information

Eileen

Ce dialogue devrait désormais passer des engagements à la mise en œuvre concrète. Il est essentiel de garantir un accès plus équitable et prévisible au financement climatique sensible au genre, de ren

Zara Oumar Issa

Monitoring

Sumeyra

Where should this dialogue go next?

fund Indigenous women organizations and help remove the barriers they face

S

Regional meeting with the financial mechanisms to get entry points to support GAP implementation

Winifred Masiko

We need more spaces of exchange en engagement of NGCCFPS, civil society and climate funds representative on what gender-transformative action means under the GAP

Letícia Ramos

Climate s week

Laura

This dialogue should be the beginning of continuous ones in every SB and COP meetings. However, further dialogues should focus on how best can the funds benefit implementation of the Belem GAP at Nati

Fred Simwaka

Pre Cop and COP 31. National chapters

Wara Ruiz Condori

à la recherche des financements des actions genre

AMOUDOU née SIDI Mariam Cathérine

de renforcer les capacités des points focaux genre et des organisations de femmes, d'améliorer la collecte de données ventilées par sexe et de mettre en place des mécanismes solides de suivi et de red

Zara Oumar Issa

Where should this dialogue go next?

It should take the main outcomes to the Pre COP and COP

Paula

Il est également important d'assurer une participation pleine et effective des femmes dans les processus de décision liés au climat.

Zara Oumar Issa

Move into more region-focused approaches as well as focusing on understanding how to draft projects for multilateral institutions.

Helena

Bring the local communities to the table to also speak from their own perspective

Helen Dennis Teghtegh

Pre COP COP31 COP32
All UNFCCC
ENGAGEMENTS

Boitumelo Molete

more comprehensive understanding of how to advance gender-responsive finance across different contexts and financial channels

Ann

Strengthen gender-responsive access to climate finance.*
Ensure climate funds deliver gender-responsive and inclusive support.* Advance gender-responsive climate finance for effective implementation

Marleny

it would be good to also hear from the perspective of bilateral cooperation, public development banks, private actors, etc.

anonymous

Where should this dialogue go next?

Practical entry points and engaging dialogue, maybe also in a collaborative workshop format

Maria

Focused time with each fund to discuss what has improved since last year and create a prioritized list of topics to investigate in the short, medium, and long term

Tara

This dialogue take us to the designing of inclusive and transformative climate actions ,

Mukandahiro Olive

Looking at what works and what doesn't in enhancing access to finance at local level, and educating fund and donors to ensure funds are targeted at right areas of work and processes facilitate access

Enni Kallio

Regional teams - there are many Gender officials in the region and inside countries who need to make input .

Kiribati

COP 31 during which successful access to finance by NGCCFPs and WROs should be shared as well.

Jackline Makokha

While climate funds play a crucial role, it would be useful to also hear more from the perspective of bilateral cooperation, public development banks, private actors, etc.

Jennifer

Looking at the impacts of the accessmet

Helen Dennis Teghtegh

Where should this dialogue go next?

En continuant à se concentrer exclusivement sur les fonds multilatéraux, on risque de négliger d'importantes sources de financement et de passer à côté d'occasions d'intensifier le financement climati

Honza

Share best practices

Martin

COP 31. Experience sharing of the implementation of the GAP on the ground.

Rosália Pedro

I would expect to see fund representatives coming to the dialogue ready to respond to questions about how their fund is engaging with and supporting WROs

Alice Ridge

Implementation of the goals and objectives discussed

Olena Shyngaryova

Bring on board the NDAs from different parties at regional level to see how activities in the Belém GAP can be implemented

Winifred Masiko

What can be learned from development institutions and other agencies that have made greater progress in integrating gender over recent years

Alice Ridge

Identify private sector funds

Diego de leon

Where should this dialogue go next?

More concrete insights on the practical workings and also how accessibility can be provided on the local level

Maria

Drill into challenges country governments face in integrating gender across projects/proposals. Bring in different actors within government to complete these important discussions/readiness requests.

Hannah Girardeau

Passer des engagements à l'action : garantir un financement climatique sensible au genre, accessible aux femmes et groupes vulnérables, avec un suivi efficace et une participation inclusive.

Zara Oumar Issa

It should go to the coming COP

Grace

this dialogue was very interesting. we have learned that project which integrate gender issues are more prioritaires as other for all funds.

Emmanuella Ngenzeuhoro

In order to ensure Civil Society organisation equal access to climate finance. It would be good to invite local actors to identify barriers.

Margareta Koltai

In Brazil, we are working to guide financial institutions to integrate gender into climate projects, as well as to measure their impacts. It would be very good if these guidelines were also passed on

Alessandra Jacobovski

NGCCFPs could discuss together engagement efforts with counterparts who engage with the funds on takeaways from this Dialogue and further entry points for linkages with the GAP and gender finance

Beatrice Thompson-Merrigan

Where should this dialogue go next?

Dialogues to include new climate funds - the Pacific Resilience Facility - is established to be the first IFI that will directly receive applications from local communities/ indigenous groups-- people

Kiribati

Make space for success stories from locally-led gender-responsive (or preferably transformative) climate action out there already, and what hurdles are for those organisations in accessing finance.

Rosa

we will consider gender in our future projects proposal.

Emmanuella Ngenzebuhoro

Move the dialogue to country-level action: simplify finance access, build capacity, mobilize private-sector support, and ensure women, youth, civil society and vulnerable groups participate meaningfully

Malebane Poka

To create a space for territorial discussion to analyze financing options on gender issues with intersectionality in indigenous communities and youth

Juan

Le dialogue est une grande opportunité de renforcement de capacités et de mieux connaître l'intérêt de la prise en compte du genre dans la finance climatique. Pour en compte les PNGCC dans les finance

YAMEOGO Yvonne petronille

we need to get sample from different funds to be more conform with the inclusion of their priorities in projects.

Emmanuella Ngenzebuhoro

individual-level measurement is a foundation for gender-responsive climate financing & how this translates into impact and change - <https://equalityinsights.org/what-we-do/revealing-resilience/>

Jo Crawford

Where should this dialogue go next?

a dedicated focus on data to inform gender-responsive financing, and its impact

Jo Crawford

