Changing the climate change story: Discovery Channel's FINAL HOUR

Climate change is not just a problem requiring solutions; it is a seismic re-framing of our world that calls into question the core cultural assumptions which define the post-industrial age and civilization. To solve it involves nothing less than a transformative vision, a new story, another paradigm-shift. The Discovery Channel is providing that vision by showing FINAL HOUR, to be seen by an audience of 1.4 billion people in 170 countries.

Survey on conference services provided by the United Nations Office at Geneva

UNFCCC receives conference services encompassing interpretation, translation of documents, and conference room support from the United Nations Office at Geneva (UNOG). UNFCCC provides other conference planning and organization services, as well as preparation and editing of documents. In the spirit of partnership between UNFCCC and UNOG, a “Survey on conference services provided by UNOG” will be distributed in Plenary 1 (Simba) during the course of the morning. Delegations are kindly requested to complete the survey (one survey per delegation) and freely express their views on the quality of conference services provided.

Vacancies at the UNFCCC secretariat

The secretariat is committed to ensuring equitable geographical distribution and gender balance among its staff. To this end, it would like to especially encourage qualified candidates from developing countries and women candidates to apply for vacancies. Participants at COP 12 and COP/MOP 2 are kindly asked to forward vacancy announcements to qualified individuals in their countries/ organizations. For more details, please consult the secretariat website:

<http://unfccc.int/secretariat/employment/vacancies/items/1216.php>.

Announcements

UNFCCC security coordination office

Participants should ensure that they wear their conference badge in full view at all times, as the security officers may request them to verify their identity. This may lead to some inconvenience at times, but it is expected that participants will understand the need for such arrangements.
