Special announcements

Use of audio/video recording devices by participants at UNFCCC sessions The making of audio and video recordings, including any external transmission, by Party or observer organization delegations during open and closed official meetings and in designated security zones is not permitted. The secretariat provides audio recordings of official meetings, as required by Parties. Webcasts are provided for open plenary meetings.

Free shuttle buses for all participants Plaza Espanya to Fira Gran Via (green line UNFCCC bus)
Timetable: 07:30–21:30
Frequency: continuous round trip

Plaza Europa to Fira Gran Via (blue line UNFCCC bus)
Timetable: 07:30–21:30
Frequency: continuous round trip

Participants are requested to show their conference badge when boarding the shuttle buses.

Announcements

Security Participants should ensure that they wear their badge in full view at all times, as the security officers may request them to verify their identity. This may lead to some inconvenience, but it is expected that participants will understand the need for such arrangements.

Lost and found items Participants are reminded not to leave personal belongings in meeting rooms. The Security office, located adjacent to the main entrance, is responsible for lost and found items.

Meditation room A room for meditation and prayer is available to participants on the First Floor, in between the offices of the Group of 77 and China and the delegation of Spain.

Events
For a full schedule of side events during the sessions and a list of the exhibits, please see the brochure "...inSide climate change", available from the Information desk and the Documents Distribution counter, or visit the UNFCCC website. The secretariat would like to note that the scheduling of events remains dependent upon the demands of the negotiating process. For short-term changes please consult the CCTV monitors.
Side events
RINGO science update series
Climate science constantly evolves. At the last stop on the road to Copenhagen, the members of the RINGO constituency (the research and independent non-governmental organizations) have planned a series of side events intended to update delegates and observers on the most recent climate change research. The events will focus on findings that have become available since the IPCC's Fourth Assessment Report. These presentations will take place in Room Serbal at 13:00 every day (except Tuesday) on the following topics:
Monday, 2 November		Science and scenarios
Wednesday, 4 November		Impacts and adaptation
Thursday, 5 November		Mitigation technologies
Friday, 6 November		Mitigation policy
Time	Organizer	Theme	Venue
09:00–10:30	Finnish Institute of International Affairs (UPI-FIIA) Ms. Mari Luomi mari.luomi@upi-fia.fi +358 206 111733	Layers of the doll: unpacking the Russian position Bilateral cooperation can enhance the chances of both negotiating an international agreement and its implementation. This event discusses ideas of partnerships between the US, the EU and Russia and their implications for the climate regime. Participation of the respective delegations is envisaged.	Almez
09:00–10:30	Institute for Governance and Sustainable Development (IGSD) Ms. Alex Viets aviets@igsd.org +1 213 3210911	Compliance and enforcement: essential elements of carbon market success Experts will explore opportunities for inter/intra-governmental cooperation and capacity-building to strengthen compliance, improve enforcement and increase environmental integrity in flexible mechanisms, including best practices for measurement, reporting and verification in offset projects.	Cipres
09:00–10:30	John Heinz III Center for Science, Economics and the Environment Ms. Amber Childress childress@heinzctr.org +1 202 5524712	Meeting research needs for implementation of agriculture, forestry and other land uses (AFOLU) The Terrestrial Carbon Group, the World Bank and partners present new analysis of the state of science for AFOLU and a proposed collaborative strategy to fill knowledge gaps in (1) quantification and accounting for terrestrial carbon, and (2) effective terrestrial carbon management techniques.	Adelfa

09:00– 10:30	Hadley Centre for Climate Prediction and Research Mr. Jason Lowe jason.lowe@metoffice.gov.uk +44 7753 880693	The AVOID programme: pathways for avoiding dangerous climate change A consortium led by the Met Office is assessing the risks of dangerous climate impacts and options to avoid them. Substantially reducing the risks needs warming to be strongly limited and ideally held below 2 °C. Ideally this needs emissions to peak as soon as possible and then fall rapidly.	Aliso
11:00– 12:30	Sustainable Markets Foundation - 350.org Mr. Jeremy Osborn jeremy@350.org +1 802 5524067	Inspiration information: updates from the field Join 350.org as we report from the 24 October International Day of Climate Action. More than 2,000 events took place in almost every country on earth calling for a fair and binding Copenhagen deal that steers us back toward 350ppm. Come and be moved towards bolder action.	Almez
11:00– 12:30	Climate Action Network Canada Mr. Chris Henschel chenschel@cpaws.org +1 613 2695380	CAN reacts to Barcelona developments on REDD and LULUCF Come hear CAN International's views on developments on REDD and LULUCF in Barcelona. Parties and discussion invited.	Tejo
13:00– 15:00	climatepolicy.net e.V. Mr. Niklas Hoehne n.hoehne@ecofys.com +49 221 27070100	Effort sharing and NAMAs - What can the two discourses learn from each other? The effort-sharing discussion will pick up momentum as COP 15 is nearing. Various proposals will be put on the table which will inform the discussion. The discussion around distribution of financing for NAMAs will need similar decisions on how financing can be spread.	Aliso
13:00– 15:00	Global Canopy Programme (GCP) Mr. Charlie Parker c.parker@globalcanopy.org +44 1 865724555	Financing REDD+: Scaling up action pre- and post-2012 The Global Canopy Programme in collaboration with the Secretariat of the Informal Working Group for Interim Financing for REDD+ (IWG IFR), Overseas Development Institute, Terrestrial Carbon Group and key REDD stakeholders explore the issue of how to scale up finance for REDD+ up to and beyond 2012. Additional activities

08:45–09:30

Think about our life -Think about Mountain

People holding a banner want to send a message that climate change is a major threat to the fragile mountain ecosystem, livelihood, biodiversity and cultural heritage of the mountain community. Head of the Delegation of Nepal, Mr. Uday Sharma, will speak briefly on climate change and Mountain. We will share the mountain pledge that was signed by 21 countries in Bangkok. Location: near the Information counter. Organizer: Sustainable Markets Foundation-350.org on behalf of Nepalese Youth for Climate Action.

09:30–10:00

REDD Christmas

Christmas comes early for the logging industry in the form of a REDD deal filled with subsidies and lacking safeguards that protect intact natural forests and indigenous rights.

Location: Tree near the Information counter. Organizer: Rainforest Action Network

08:45–09:45

School report

Young Friends of the Earth will hand delegates their revision list, so they can study hard for their final exam in Copenhagen in one month's time. We will hand out the list, so everyone can see where the countries need to improve and at the same time encourage them to study harder. Location: at street level, in front of the north entrance of Fira Gran Via. Organizer: Friends of the Earth International

All day

Climate treaty “Jenga” tower

Will it all fall down? Or can a global, fair, ambitious and, most importantly, binding treaty in Copenhagen be built on the foundation of the Kyoto Treaty? In light of lack of progress this week, are some world leaders pushing us towards a collapse – or can negotiators rescue a strong deal? Organizer: Avaaz Foundation

TckTckTck

A global coalition of more than 200 environment and development NGOs, trade unions, faith groups, etc. The event features an artistic display representing the urgency of the need to agree to a fair, ambitious binding climate treaty in Copenhagen. On 21 September and again on 24 October hundreds of thousands of people gave a powerful mandate for strong political action. The clocks are the reminder of that call. Location: Foyer of Hall 8 near the exit. Organizer: Avaaz Foundation on behalf of TckTckTck campaign

Adopt-a-negotiator

A collaborative blog project involving 13 young people from 13 of the big players in the negotiations. A young person from each country 'tracks' their lead negotiator and reports back through a range of social media to their home networks. Countries in focus are Japan Sweden, India, China, Australia, Canada, Italy, USA, UK, Brazil, Germany, France and Spain. The 'trackers' also meet with their delegations throughout the negotiations with the aim of making the UNFCCC process two way. The tracker teams can be identified around by their distinctive red T-shirts. Follow their progress at www.adoptanegotiator.org. Organizer: Oxfam International on behalf of GCCA

Photo display

Highlights from the 24th October International Day of Action on Climate Change. These photographs on display represent a small fraction of all those sent in from around the world documenting this day, when over 5,200 demonstrations occurred in 181 countries in support of bringing emissions back to a safe level below 350 parts per million. Delegates and observers may see visually how strongly civil society is behind a treaty based on the latest science, and how much the political will to address that science grew on 24 October. Location: walls of Hall 8. Organizer: Sustainable Markets Foundation - 350.org

Facing the future

This photography exhibit examines the explosion of the international youth climate movement by highlighting the inspirational work that youth are undertaking across the globe in the face of the growing climate crisis. Photographs by Robert vanWaarden; supported by the YOUNGO constituency and Fired UP! Media. Location: walls of Hall 8. Organizer: Sustainable Markets Foundation - 350.org
