Nationally appropriate mitigation actions by developing country Parties:
mechanism to record nationally appropriate mitigation actions and facilitate provision and recording of support

1. [A registry as a part of the financial mechanism] [A mechanism] shall be established to record nationally appropriate mitigation actions¹ for which developing country Parties are seeking support and to facilitate matching and recording of support² by developed country Parties for each of those actions.
2. Pursuant to Article 12, paragraph 4, of the Convention, developing country Parties [may] [shall] submit to the mechanism [, on a voluntary basis,] proposals for nationally appropriate mitigation actions

¹ This text may have to be redrafted based on the outcome of the consultation of the President of the Conference of the Parties on autonomous actions undertaken in the context of aspects of developing country mitigation actions.

² This text may have to be redrafted based on the outcome of the consultation of the President of the Conference of the Parties on provision of financial resources and on measuring, reporting and verification of support.

for which they are seeking support, along with an estimate of all related incremental costs, indication of type of support, an estimate of mitigation benefits and the anticipated time frame for implementation. Support sought for specific nationally appropriate mitigation actions may include support related to enhancing capacity for the design, preparation and implementation of such actions.

3. [Proposed nationally appropriate mitigation actions [may] [shall] also be submitted to the mechanism for technical analysis of the methodologies used to estimate the incremental costs and the expected emissions reductions in accordance with guidelines to be adopted by the Conference of the Parties].

4. The mechanism shall facilitate and record the [matching of] [application of] support for proposed nationally appropriate mitigation actions by developing countries [only] through the [financial and technology mechanisms] and bilateral, regional and other multilateral sources of funding and with capacity-building through the [framework for capacity- building].

5. Once the matching has been agreed and confirmed, the mechanism shall record and regularly update information on the following:

- (a) Nationally appropriate mitigation actions supported and enabled by developed country Parties;
- (b) Support provided for implementing each of the actions referred to in paragraph 5 (a) above.

6. The Conference of the Parties shall develop and adopt guidelines for the operation of this mechanism.
