Lima Climate Action Day at COP 20/CMP 10

The government of Peru, as COP 20 Presidency, is committed to support the needed acceleration of climate action and give recognition to all actors in their role to combat climate change. In order to do so, 11 December will be “Lima Climate Action Day” at COP 20/CMP 10. Activities during this day will seek to strengthen the global message on the need to increase both ambition and multi-stakeholder collaboration on climate change.

COP 20/CMP 10 Presidency will host two events:

Lima Climate Action High Level Meeting

10.00 – 12.30
Plenary Cusco
Open to all participants

Climate action requires, as a priority, the fulfilment of existing obligations under the Convention and the Kyoto Protocol. Additionally, State and non-state actors should continue to identify, scale-up and assess new opportunities with high potential to address climate change.

The meeting will present a high level dialogue between parties and non-state actors in order to:

- Promote engagement and support by Global Leaders to strengthen pre-2020 climate action as a strong foundation for the post-2020 Climate Agreement.
- Encourage the implementation of existing climate commitments by parties and other commitments made by non-state actors.

Follow-up on Non-state Actors commitments on Climate Action

13.00 – 15.00
Room B5 - Trujillo
Open to all participants

A special event will be hosted to:

- Recognize and encourage cooperative climate initiatives.
- Follow up on quantified climate action commitments by state and non-state actors.
- Explore ways to scale-up initiatives by discussing main barriers and strategies.
- Assess the role of cooperative climate initiatives in addressing the pre-2020 gap.
