To mark the tenth anniversary of the entry into force of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, the secretariat has published a special book: "The First Ten Years". This publication provides an overview of actions taken during the past decade to combat climate change and mitigate its adverse effects. It looks at recent emissions trends and prospects, and considers how concern about climate change fits in with strategies for sustainable development.

CCKIOSK

Colourful graphs, charts and photographs accompany the text.

Copies of "The First Ten Years" are available from the Climate Change Kiosk following the close of the opening meeting. The publication can also be downloaded from the UNFCCC web site: <unfccc.int>.

Connecting laptops to the Internet at COP 10

Participants with laptops may access the Internet (PlugNplay network) through two services available in the conference venue (primarily Green Pavilion). These services are available in two categories. In neither case does any change need to be made to your system.

Category #1. Loose network (nodes) cables are available in the Computer Centre for delegates and observers and in the Media Centre for journalists. To use this service, simply plug the cable into your laptop. Cables are black or yellow in colour.

Category #2. WiFi (Wireless) network services are available throughout the conference facility. To use this service, a computer equipped with a Wireless network component is needed. The wireless network is identified by the name: PlugNplay. Choose the PlugNplay point with the highest percentage of availability for better service. No changes are needed to your system to take advantage of this service. The best "hot spots" are indicated with PlugNplay banners.

Caution! The PlugNplay network is open, with no restrictions or protection. In order to ensure safe operation, please follow the best practice tips below:

1. Install and/or update your antivirus software.
2. Activate your personal firewall if your computer has such software installed. WindowsXP users should activate the Windows firewall feature.
3. Assign your computer a suitable name e.g. the name of your organization, company or delegation.
